Lewis Is Given Until Monday For Decision

Fails To Attend Meeting Of Presidential Fact Find- ing Board On Friday

COURT BATTLE MAY DEVELOP

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 27.—A court battle between the government and John L. Lewis today threatened to occur ahead of schedule.

The fight may come not on an injunction to end the two-week-old strike of 400,000 coal miners as originally expected but on the issue of whether Lewis will testify before a presidential fact-finding board.

Federal Circuit Judge Sherman Minton, chairman of the three-man panel probing the mine shutdown, has given the UMW president until 10 a. m. Monday to decide whether he will attend a board session at 2:30 that afternoon.

May Issue Subpoena

Lewis declined to appear before the fact-finders at their initial session and, if he maintains this position, Minton said a subpoena would be issued for his appearance. The jurist added:

"If Mr. Lewis disobeys the subpoena, we can get a U. S. District (Continued on Page Two)

Community Prepares For Easter Observance

There will be a complete unanimity in the services of all Christian churches tomorrow morning. Easter morning brings the observance of the Resurrection and special services will mark the worship of the occasion.

In many Lawrence County churches there will be sunrise services, with most churches holding the main service at eleven o'clock. The days of Lent are past, the sorrows of the Crucifixion are forgotten in the joy of the Easter morning.

Weather Not Promising

For the Easter season the weatherman is promising little in the way of fair weather. The indications are for cloudy weather with possible showers, certainly nothing to make friends and influence people among the feminine sex.

Sales are reported heavy in women's clothing, hats, hosiery and shoes and it will probably take more than a cloudy day to halt the Easter parade down Washington street Sunday afternoon.

The tots are waiting the arrival of the Easter bunny with his load of chocolate eggs and the older girls are eager to step out in their new finery.

Floral and confectionery sales have been heavy in the past week and deliveries of all kinds will be rushed this afternoon and early Sunday morning.

With the observance of Easter the spring is officially here. The hope that rises in the hearts of Christian people at Easter time is reflected in the new birth of the shrubs and grasses.

Most of the colleges are on their Easter vacations and scores of students are home. The public schools have been on holiday for a week but come Monday morning and the classes will be doing business again.

Special Session Of U.N. Council Now Expected

U. S. Confident Special Session Will Be Called On Palestine Issue

UNITED NATIONS IN RECESS AT PRESENT

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 27.—The United States is confident today that a special session of the United Nations General Assembly can be convened next month for speedy dealing with the Palestine problem.

It is understood on reliable authority that despite repeated official British declarations that the mandate will be yielded on May 15 and troops withdrawn from the Holy Land as rapidly as possible, U. S. efforts to induce a change in policy are being continued between Washington and London.

Bevin-Bidault May Come

One competent source at Lake Success hinted that every effort will be made to induce Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault to come to Washington during April.

The same source pointed out that if a special assembly is in session at the time, the two top diplomats hardly will pass over an opportunity to participate in the debate at Flushing Meadows.

It is estimated that the presence of Bevin and Bidault at the special session on Palestine would give added impetus to the search for a temporary solution on Palestine.

SPRING BEAUTY IN WASHINGTON

When the cherry blossoms appear in full bloom in Washington, the complete beauty of Spring pervades the nation's capital. Peggy Bolstad, secretary to the Senate Sergeant-at-Arms, is shown relaxing for a moment on the south grounds of the Capitol admiring the scene.

Cold, Cloudy And Windy Is Forecast Of Easter Weather

(By International News Service)

Here is the Weather Bureau's revised nationwide forecast for Easter Sunday:

Rather cold, cloudy and windy weather will prevail during the morning over the north and middle Atlantic states with snow flurries in northern New England and northern New York showers in southern New England and followed by clearing in the afternoon. Through the Great Lakes and Ohio valley partly cloudy weather and cold northerly winds will prevail. Generally fair and cool weather is expected over the Mississippi Valley, the southern states and the south Atlantic states. In the Great Plains and the southern Rockies considerable sunshine with mild temperature is expected. Partly cloudy and mild weather will prevail over the northern Rockies and the Western Plateau states with considerable cloudiness in the far west and showers along the northwest Pacific coast.

Midwest And South Swept By Tornadoes

Death Toll In Storms Is Reported To Have Reached 24

GREAT DAMAGE IN STORM BELT (BULLETIN)

CHICAGO, March 27.—(INS)—The death toll rose to 24 today in a series of destructive tornadoes which struck in five states.

Communities and towns were flattened by heavy storms in Indiana, Alabama, Illinois, Missouri, and Louisiana yesterday and last night.

The small communities of Roanoke and Piedmont, Ala., were struck by tornadoes this morning. Both towns were cut off from outside communication. The number of persons injured or the extent of property damage could not be determined immediately.

Indiana Hardest Hit

The west central section of Indiana was the hardest hit. Indiana counted at least 20 known dead this morning as state police and other rescue workers combed the wreckage of flattened buildings.

The American Red Cross reported that the heaviest loss of lives occurred at Coatesville, Ind., where the bodies of 11 persons have been found and identified. Two others were killed by the storm at Coatesville, state police announced, but the two have not been identified.

Property Damage High

Property damage in the four states was expected to run high. In Indiana alone, state police expected the death toll would reach 25.

Three persons were killed in Alleville, Ala., and 43 injured, five critically.

In addition, a heavy hailstorm battered Montgomery, Ala., last night, breaking windows and shattering advertising signs.

Rapid Fall In Temperature

Weather officials said a rapid fall in the temperature in the mid-west last night was caused by a cold front which moved in from the north.

It struck warm air prevailing in the area and set off tornadoes which battered Grafton, Ill., 30 miles north of St. Louis and then hit Terre Haute, Ind., moving on to Coatesville.

Workers probed the Coatesville ruins under lantern light in an effort to find possible victims who might either be dead or trapped in the debris.

Witnesses said the tornado struck suddenly and leveled 30 houses in a row on one Coatesville street as it roared through "like an express train."

Red Cross Aid Rushed

American Red Cross workers were rushed into the devastated area and set up canteens to care for the injured and homeless.

The tornado struck the small Indiana community after lesser tornado winds had lashed Missouri and Illinois towns.

The Indiana and Alabama deaths brought to 33 the two-day death toll caused by tornadoes.

At least 14 were killed in central and eastern Oklahoma Thursday (Continued on Page Two)

Pa Newc Observes

Dear Pa Newc: Just wonder how many folks in New Castle saw the wild geese go over on Thursday. Three times before noon my husband called me out to watch three flocks flying over. It was a beautiful sight but the silver V was so high, I imagine there weren't many who saw it. Mrs. Fred Hill, R. D. 1, New Castle.

Farmers in some sections of the country are fairly well along with their plowing. Pa Newc discovered in a visit to the North Beaver township area Friday evening. Others in low lying lands have not ventured to turn over the soil until the ground dries up somewhat.

Weather permitting, Sunday should bring out the largest attendance in Sunday schools and churches of the county and city that has been seen for many a month. The mild weather that has been experienced the past few days will bring out the spring wardrobes for the Easter parade.

Pa Newc notes that the pillars in the ornamental fence around the interior of the public square have once more been rebuilt. A considerable number of the pillars were demolished by skidding autos during the winter.

Many church groups around the city and county will be getting off to church quite early Easter morning if anticipated attendances are any criterion. An announcement elsewhere in The News shows at least 30 known sunrise services that are to be conducted in various churches. Many of the early morning meetings will be followed by breakfast in the church. The earliest of the county meetings is at 5 a. m. at Hillsville where the Methodists are planning to meet outdoors.

Attendance at the downtown Good Friday service in the First Presbyterian church proved most satisfactory. The church auditorium was filled to capacity during most of the three hours of the service. Those having to leave were quickly replaced by others coming in for the service.

Easter promenaders are warned by the weatherman that it may be a little chilly tomorrow, but that no rain will fall on the ladies' finery. Temperatures in the low 50's have been forecast.

Stalling of traffic on North Mercer street, just above Washington street, is becoming a daily occurrence. This is caused by autoists double parking, resulting in much loud horn blowing.

Tacit Easter Truce Exists In Jerusalem

(BULLETIN)

JERUSALEM, March 27.—(INS)—Palestine's uneasy Easter Truce was shattered by new violence today.

A spirited machine-gun fight took place between Arabs and Jews in the old city of Jerusalem.

JERUSALEM, March 27.—(INS)—Jerusalem's Christians observed sacred pre-Easter ceremonies today, while intermittent machine gun fire was heard on the outskirts of the holy city.

Within Jerusalem, itself, however, the sanctity of Easter was undisturbed, as Jews and Arabs continued to honor the tacit truce.

British Archbishop Arthur W. Hughes, papal nuncio in the middle east, officiated at the blessing of the holy fire in the basilica of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

Only in Jerusalem's southwestern outskirts did Jewish-Arab violence erupt. Gun fighting which began last night carried over to this morning in the "terror triangle"—the area within Mekor Haim, Beit Safafa and Katamon.

The unofficial Arab-Jewish truce went into effect yesterday, when both factions ceased their fighting to allow the traditional Good Friday procession of the way of the cross make its journey.

Arab national guardsmen and a scattering of British police guarded the route. But among the 700 of the faithful who followed Archbishop Hughes along the Via Dolorosa, not a single British army uniform was in evidence.

The procession was made up of Christian Arabs, with a handful of British and Polish Catholics.

Wage Increase Recommended

President's Board Reports On Engineers, Firemen, And Switchmen Wage Issues

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—A presidential emergency board today recommended a general wage increase of 15 and one-half cents an hour, retroactive to November 1, 1947, for locomotive engineers, firemen and switchmen on most of the nation's railroads.

The recommendation was made to President Truman after an investigation of a threatened nationwide rail strike.

The board's findings affect some 150,000 workers and practically all class one railroads in the nation.

The three railroad brotherhoods had asked for a 30 per cent increase in wages with a minimum raise of $3 a day.

The board granted the 15 and a half cents an hour increase on a (Continued on Page Two)

Truman To Return Tax Bill Next Week

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Administration sources said today that President Truman probably will send the tax reduction bill back to Congress next Wednesday or Thursday with a sharp veto message.

Democratic leaders explained that the President undoubtedly would wait until the House has disposed of the European Recovery bill before returning the four billion, 773 million dollar tax cut.

The House is expected to finish with the ERP bill Tuesday, although a snarl may develop which will delay final action until Wednesday. There is little likelihood that the President would muddy the waters with a tax veto until this important legislation is out of the way.

Annual Music And Forensic Contest Near

Pupils From Lawrence County High Schools To Compete At Westminster College

CONTEST TAKES PLACE APRIL 3

Pupils from Lawrence county high school will compete Saturday at Westminster college in the annual county contest of the Pennsylvania Music and Forensic League. It was announced today by Thomas P. Smathers, principal of the Neshannock township schools, who is Lawrence county director of the Pennsylvania Music and Forensic League.

The winners of the various events being contested for will be certified to compete in the northwestern contest, which will take place at Edinboro State Teachers college on April 9 and 10 and the winners in the district contest will compete in the state contest, which will take place at Oil City at a date to be announced later.

Schools Entering

Schools which are entering the contests are: New Castle Senior High, Bessemer, East Brook, Mt. Jackson, Shenango, Union, New Wilmington, and Wampum.

Entrants have no competition in their events in the contest will not be required to appear April 3, but will be automatically certified for the Northwestern district contest at Edinboro later in the month.

Since there are only two Class C bands which are entering the contest, Mt. Jackson and Bessemer, the band contest will take place at Mt. Jackson high school on Friday afternoon, April 2, at 1:30 o'clock.

Visitors are welcome to attend any or all events. The judges will be faculty members of the speech (Continued on Page Two)

Peyton Found Guilty By Jury

Second Degree Verdict Is Returned In Wife Slaying At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—(INS)—Night club owner Charles Peyton, 51, today faced a maximum of 20 years in prison after he was found guilty of second degree murder in the slaying of his wife, Mary.

The jury recommended mercy after deliberating a little more than five hours, and defense attorney Charles J. Margiotti indicated a motion for a new trial would be filed within a few days.

Peyton was charged with the fatal shooting of his wife in his darkened Steubenville Pike night club last June 26. Peyton testified that the shooting was an accident, that he didn't see or hear his wife come into the night club as he fired a shot to frighten away revelers.

The prosecution had asked for the electric chair.

Soviet Orders Destruction Of Saxony Castles

FRANKFURT, Germany, March 27.—(INS)—The Soviet Military Administration has ordered the immediate destruction of 1,800 historic castles and mansions in Saxony to give the countryside a "new look" more in keeping with Communist philosophy.

The administration, which is carrying out this program to remove the vestiges of aristocracy in eastern Germany, announced officially that the buildings, some of which date back to the 15th century, are being razed to furnish materials for 500 new cottages.

The Soviet said these cottages are to house the refugee farmers who shared in the land reform program.

In the face of public protests, Communist Minister of the Interior for Saxony Paul Fischer has issued a statement saying that the implementation of the Soviet order is a "political necessity." He added:

"No former manor houses should disfigure the landscape. The new cottages of refugee-farmers will give it a new and different look."

Varied Weather Is Forecast For U. S. On Easter

(By International News Service)

Mankind, weighted by the foreboding of new world ills, prepared today to observe Easter, the feast of the resurrection of Christ.

And through the observance of Easter, men prepared to renew their hope and their faith—to gather new strength to go forth, confident in the power of God.

Churches throughout the nation rushed last minutes preparations to celebrate Easter.

Many Sunrise Services

In many of the nation's large cities traditional sunrise services will mark the day. In many cities special church services will be carried on both radio and television.

Fair skies and temperatures of about 50 degrees were expected for the nation's most famed Easter (Continued on Page Two)

Kidnaping Story Blows Up, Youths Return To Home

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., March 27.—(INS)—Thomas Gill, 13, and his brother Joseph, 11, were back home today contrite and downcast after their over-night excursion into the woods caused a kidnap scare.

Police conducted an all-night search for the youngsters after their mother, Mrs. Gertrude Gill, reported them missing yesterday from their Wishaw home.

She reportedly told police that a masked man appeared at her home and demanded $100 ransom. However, the boys said yesterday after they were found that they simply decided to spend the night in the woods and insisted they told no one of their plans.

They promised their parents and the police they would ask permission the next time.

Travelers Given Special Warning

HARRISBURG, March 27.—(INS)—The U. S. weather bureau at Harrisburg issued a special bulletin for travelers warning of a cold wave tonight in western Pennsylvania.

The temperature will fall 25 or 30 degrees tomorrow morning in the wake of strong northerly winds and snow flurries, said the weather man.

He suggested travelers tuck some warm clothes in with their Easter finery and added: "Happy Easter."

Former King Michael Will Go To Detroit

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Former King Michael of Romania proceeded with plans to leave Washington for Detroit today despite reported death threats that resulted in a double guard of detectives.

Michael, who will inspect automobile plants in Detroit, will leave by train at 7 p. m. EST.

The 26-year-old former monarch plans to remain in Michigan three days, before proceeding to Cleveland, home of a large Romanian-American colony. At Cleveland Mayor Thomas A. Burke has scheduled a dinner in Michael's honor.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today follow:

Maximum temperature, 68.
Minimum temperature, 55.
Precipitation, .44 inches.
River stage, 8.8 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:

Maximum temperature, 31.
Minimum temperature, 18.
Precipitation, .03 inches, snow.

Submarine Sighted Near West Coast Believed American

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—(INS)—A submarine was sighted 60 miles southwest of San Francisco today by a Pan American World Airways plane crew, but an immediate investigation indicated it was an American undersea craft on a training cruise.

A spokesman for the 12th naval district headquarters in San Francisco said:

"The submarine was sighted Monterey, Calif., from San Diego at 2 p. m. yesterday. With students of the navy general line school aboard the Carp began maneuvers off Monterey at 7 a. m. (California daylight saving time) today. The Carp made several dives.

"The maneuvers were being carried out in the general area where the plane crew reported sighting a submarine."

Seek To Persuade British To Keep Troops In Palestine

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—The United States formally was understood to be making a final effort to persuade the British to keep their troops in Palestine after May 15.

Prospects of success was somewhat doubtful, as the British are adamant in their determination to pull out of the Holy Land, "vacuum or no vacuum."

The State department said no formal negotiations were under way between Washington and London, but this was accepted as more or less of a "diplomatic" answer.

It was denied this government has followed the outbreak of a number of printers' strikes and alleged adoption of a no-contract policy by the I.T.U.

Injunction Is Granted Against I.T.U. By Court

(BULLETIN)

INDIANAPOLIS, March 27.—(INS)—Federal Judge Luther M. Sawyer today granted an injunction, restraining the International Typographical union from alleged violations of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The injunction was sought by the National Labor Relations board following the outbreak of a number of printers' strikes and alleged adoption of a no-contract policy by the I.T.U.

Plan To Pursue Probe Of Shipments Of War Materials

Chairmen Of Committees To Keep Up Probes Despite Presdent's Action

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Chairmen of two house committees today prepared to pursue their investigation into shipments of potential war materials behind the iron curtain despite President Truman's order curtailing export activities.

Rep. Rieley (R) Okla., who heads a house expenditures subcommittee probing the shipment of surplus military equipment to Russia, and Rep. Shafer (R) Mich., who heads the armed service subcommittee on exports, both declared President Truman had acted "belatedly."

Rieley said: "We're always glad to get some cooperation from the administration but I still wonder how many horses have been stolen while the barn door was unlocked."

He declared his investigation into the shipment of airplane engines and parts to the Soviet Union and satellite nations has "just scratched the surface." He disclosed that he has dispatched two committee investigators to New York to check waterfront loading and to trail down reports that a speculating ring has been selling export licenses.

The Oklahoma congressman remarked that the president's proclamation would serve little if the commerce department fails carefully to screen and police export licenses.

Shafer, who heard Secretary of Commerce Harriman testify this week, reported that he would continue hearings on the Soviet export problem next week with commerce department officials summoned for questioning.

President Truman created the board of inquiry last Tuesday under the Taft-Hartley law and directed it to report to him "on or before April 5" on the pension dispute between Lewis and the soft coal operators.

Mr. Truman has indicated that after the board reports the government will seek an 80-day court injunction against continuance of the walkout.

Feared Drastic Curtailment

Interior Secretary Krug said

steel mills, railroads and public utilities will be forced to drastically curtail operations if the strike continues for another 15 days.

Krug appealed to coal companies still producing to give top priority to orders from hospitals, food plants.

The government's original timetable was to get the fact-finding board's report early next week,

apply immediately for an injunction and try to have the miners back at work by April 5.

Minton said the board still could complete hearings next Monday "if we get all the witnesses here that we have issued invitations to."

Soft coal operators testified for nearly two hours before the panel

but Lewis informed the board that he could not attend yesterday

"because definitive study is being given to the legal questions involved." The union chief added:

"Sometime Monday this office hopes to be able to be further advised on the important legal questions at issue."

Industrial Gains During February Highest Since War

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 27.—(INS)—The highest level of industrial activity since the war ended was reached during February, it was reported today by the business research bureau at Pennsylvania State college.

It was unlikely, the bureau warned, that the level would be maintained during March because of the soft coal strike and the repercussion on the steel industry.

Gain in February

"The index of industrial activity in February rose to 187, a gain of 6 per cent over a year ago and a gain of 2 per cent over January,"

the bureau announced.

Industrial power sales, coal production and employ hours in manufacturing was used to determine the index.

The bureau reported no figures

but said industrial power sales established new records for the month while new peacetime levels were set for factory employment, employ hours and steel production.

Deaths Of The Day

James N. Fullerton

James N. Fullerton, aged 80 years, died Friday at his residence in North Beaver township after a brief illness. Born April 5, 1867, in North Beaver township, he was a son of the late Walter and Marie

Reed Fullerton.

Mr. Fullerton was employed for 20 years as superintendent of the delivery department of Boggs and Buhl, Pittsburgh. Later he returned to reside on the farm, where he died. The deceased was a member of Westfield Presby-

ANNUAL EASTER PARTY

By Ladies of St. Mary's

ST. MARY'S AUDITORIUM

Tuesday, March 30, 8 P. M.

CARDS — GAMES — BOOTHS

WEDDING PLANNED

FOR THIS EVENING

In the First Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock this evening, Betty M. Buchanan, of 321 Northview avenue, will be married to Thomas L. Kalahar, of 1701 Highland avenue, at an open church ceremony with Dr. R. F. Galbreath officiating.

As attendants they will have Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Koach. A reception in Parlor A at The Castleton will be given following the ceremony.

COUNTY ART GROUP

WILL MEET MONDAY

"Ceramics" will be the workshop subject for members of the Lawrence County Art Association when it meets Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Highland school. Miss Ann McClure will instruct the evening's program.

Earlier a box supper will be served with the social committee in charge of dessert.

ST. MARY'S PLANS

EASTER CARD PARTY

Ladies of St. Mary's will sponsor the annual Easter party on Tuesday evening, March 30, at 8:15 in the church basement auditorium.

There will be tables for cards and games and special booths.

Society and CLUBS

MUSIC CLUB PLANS PUBLIC PROGRAM

March program of the Music Club on Tuesday evening, March 30, at 8 o'clock in the Third U. P. church, East Washington street at Adams, will be an open meeting. Members have been asked to note the change from the usual meeting place.

In keeping with the Easter season, a program of organ, voice and cello music has been arranged.

The program, which, it has been stressed, is open to the public, promises to be one of unusual interest for those who enjoy music. The complete program will be published in Monday's New Castle News.

READING CIRCLE '91 ELECTION MONDAY

Reading Circle '91 will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the rose room of the Y. W. C. A. with Mrs. James Morgan as hostess.

Important business of the day will include election of officers. Mrs. W. H. Shipley will be the speaker on a topic of her own choice.

Roll call answer will be "Famous Mothers" and various members of the club will give three-minute talks about famous women.

"OPEN HOUSE" TO FETE DAVID KYLE

Friends and relatives will be entertained at "open house" Thursday, April 1, in the home of David F. Kyle, Cleland Hill road, Mahoningtown, R. D. 7. Thursday will mark the eightieth birthday of Mr. Kyle, who has been active for some time in Pomona grange work in Lawrence county. Reception hours will be from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 10 o'clock in the evening.

HONOR CLASS MEMBER WITH HANKY SHOWER

Members of Section E, of Y. L. B. class, Third U. P. church, were entertained on Thursday, in the home of Mrs. Albert Wilson, of Morton street.

The event took the form of a surprise party in honor of Mrs. Jennie Shaffer, who will leave soon, to make her home at Silver Springs, Md.

A splendid dinner was served at one o'clock. The table was beautifully decorated with flowers. Special guests were the pastor, Dr. Paul Graham and Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Roy Ziegler, and Mrs. Harry Alford. Dr. Graham gave the invocation.

The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. F. L. Sturdevant, and Miss Anna Mehard. Reminiscing was the pastime of the afternoon. After a diligent hunt, staged by the group, the honored guest found the basket of beautiful hankies.

Next meeting on April 2, at the home of Mrs. Jennie Shaffer, 813 Butler avenue.

W. A. C. Class Meets

W. A. C. class of Wesley Methodist church met Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Arch Davies, Elma street, for a short business meeting. Prayer was led by Mrs. Morris Cox.

In serving a lunch, the hostess was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Williams.

Next meeting will be April 16 in the form of a tureen dinner at the church.

In College Dance Group

NORTON, Mass., March 27.—Natalie W. Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Rowland, of 1090 Highland avenue, New Castle, Pennsylvania, took part in the Spring Dance Concert at Wheaton College, Norton, Massachusetts, on Tuesday night as a member of the Country Dance Group. Miss Rowland is a freshman at Wheaton.

"CHINA" WOMAN'S CLUB TOPIC MONDAY

Dr. Welthy Honsinger Fisher

On Monday afternoon, March 29, members of the Woman's club will be privileged to hear Dr. Welthy Honsinger Fisher speak on "China" at the club's March meeting in Highland U. P. church at 2 o'clock.

In the fullest sense of the word, Dr. Fisher, A. M., Litt. D., is a world citizen for she has lived on four continents. In December she returned from China after eight months' stay.

A recognized authority on Far Eastern affairs, she lived for almost 20 years in the Orient and followed closely the political and economic developments in that area.

She understands orientals as few in the western world can; she lived with them; speaks their language. In addition, she knows intimately the great, the near-great, the humble, the poor, and the wealthy of the nations of four continents.

On the program planned for the afternoon, Miss Lenore Pyle will be piano soloist. Hostesses are Mrs. John Gay, Mrs. William H. Martin, Mrs. L. G. Nail and Mrs. M. Edward Alexander.

Sail On Cruise

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 27.—New Castle, Pa. residents sailing for a cruise to Netherlands West Indies, Venezuela and Columbia on Grace Line's Santa Rosa which sailed from New York March 19 were Mr. and Mrs. Quincy McBride, of 211 Euclid avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. William F. Moody, of 1308 Highland avenue.

Auxiliary Postpones

Casa Savoi Auxiliary which was to have met on Easter Sunday, has postponed the meeting until Tuesday evening, March 30, at 7:30 o'clock.

PERSONAL

James H. Shaw, of 319 Park avenue, who has been ill for some time, is improved and able to be out again.

Dennis Royston, of 327 Park avenue, is in New York City to spend this spring vacation from Westminster College.

Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Jameson, of 211 East Lincoln avenue, left Friday for a visit over the Easter holiday with Mrs. R. B. Jameson, Jr., in Lanerch, Pa.

Harvey Steinbrink of 705½ Carlisle street, confined to New Castle Hospital, is in a serious condition. Mr. Steinbrink is a veteran of Spanish-American war.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Devlin, of Rochester, N. Y., are spending the Easter holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl K. Devlin, of Crown avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Allen, of Winter avenue.

Sgt. and Mrs. Samuel S. Anzalone, of Westover field, Mass., have arrived with their three-months old daughter, Cheryl Elizabeth, for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Samuel Anzalone, of 618 Superior street. Sgt. Anzalone is on 35-day leave. Before being assigned to the air transport command at Westover field, he was a top turret gunner with a heavy bombardment group in the ETO.

Garibaldi Joins Anti-Communist Ranks In Italy

Grandson And Namesake Of Noted Italian Revolutionary Figure, Fights Communism

ROME, March 27.—(INS)—General Giuseppe Garibaldi, 65, grandson and namesake of the noted Italian revolutionary, enlisted today in the ranks of Italian anti-communists.

He told International News Service: "I will continue the Garibaldi tradition and my own life fight against totalitarianism and dictatorship."

Gen. Garibaldi recalled that his grandfather fought against foreign intervention in the domestic affairs of Italy, Balkan and South American countries throughout his career, and that his father, who also bore the famous name, exiled himself in 1924 because of his opposition to fascism.

Brings Suit

Communists, the general declared, have "misappropriated my grandfather's name and effigy" for the election campaign. He has brought suit to stop communist use of the Garibaldi name in connection with their "people's front."

Married to an American, Madeleine Nichols of New York, Gen. Garibaldi has accepted the editorship of the new anti-communist Rome newspaper, "Roma Notte-Gazzetta D'Italia."

Swimming Classes Starting April 6

Swimming classes for all categories, from beginners through the advanced stages, will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evening starting April 6 at George Washington and Ben Franklin pools. The classes will be under the supervision of the city recreation board, headed by Art Alexander.

Enrollment fee will be two dollars and participants may attend between the hours of 7 to 8 and 8 to 10. Red Cross certificates will be awarded those meeting the planned tests.

NUTS AND NOURISHMENT

There are some kinds of food which are usually classed as extras or occasional items.

Nuts are in this class. Many people figure that candy and nuts are eaten for amusement only and do not provide much nourishment.

Nuts are a highly nutritious food. They provide fat and starch and protein in abundance.

Weight for weight they provide more calories than meat or bread do.

They are especially rich in fat. A person who wants to add a little to his weight may sometimes do so by adding some nuts to his regular fare.

SKULL DISCOVERY STARTLES BUTLER,

BUT NOT FOR LONG

BUTLER, Pa., March 27.—(INS)—Discovery of a skull in an east Butler dump proved today to be just plain skullduggery.

Mrs. George Schuur of east Butler reported to state police and the coroner that some children found the skull while playing and brought it to her home.

However, the skull was found to be shellacked and the jaws hinged and police believe it was discarded either by a physician or a dentist.

INCREASE PAPER PRICE

BOSTON, March 27.—(INS)—The Christian Science Monitor announced today an increase from 3 to 5 cents the cost of its street sale editions. The Monitor has sold for 5 cents outside of Boston. The Boston Globe also announced an increase to 5 cents effective Monday for the morning and evening editions.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

A definite showdown on relations between Italy and Yugoslavia which could be of great and dramatic importance to the future of Europe appeared in the process of making today.

Both nations have signified agreement to treat directly with one another on the status of Trieste.

Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza has made the sole reservation that these negotiations must accord with the spirit of the Anglo-American-French proposal that the city be reunited with Italy.

And to this Marshal Tito presumably has agreed in principle although he dislikes very much the fact that the Western Allies made their suggestion without consulting him.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

Question Involved
The issue thus seems to boil down to one of protocol and these questions present themselves:

First, will there be a definite solution prior to the crucial Italian elections of April 18 when European Communism will be put to a supreme test?

Second, will the Italo-Yugoslav conversations be carried on through normal diplomatic channels or will a delegation have to journey from Rome to Belgrade?

And if the latter is the case, will Italy be chafed up as "another Finland" at the beck and call of Moscow?

The onrush of Soviet expansion which has aroused the whole world to fears of a new war has served to obscure the fact that the weary nations of Europe actually have achieved a large number of bilateral agreements which have nothing whatever to do with bombs and shells.

There have been customs unions and trade agreements carried out in a thoroughly orderly manner. Many of the long-standing differences between Italy and Austria have been removed. Italy also has signed a customs union with France—and by the same token France has reopened her long-closed frontier with Spain.

No "Power Politics"

So-called "power politics" have had no influence at all in these accords.

And the same holds true—despite Soviet criticism—of the Five-Power Brussels pact. This did contain a military clause but it was in fact secondary to a historic agreement whereby Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Holland and Luxembourg will co-

YOUR EMOTIONS ARE SHOWING

In all our relationships with other people the most eloquent and powerful forces in us are our emotions. They cannot be hidden. They are not expressed alone in words. Indeed, they are a universal language. Even an infant a few weeks old can read them.

Human emotions are most eloquent, as a rule, in all family relationships—between husband and wife, parent and child, or among other persons there. They are the legal tender of all exchange in family endearments or in family conflicts.

These facts make it difficult to tell any one clearly how to be a good husband or wife or parent or how to solve any parent problem. It may be easy to give directions for operating a perfectly good machine. But how much more difficult to operate another person of any age at home or elsewhere.

No Specific Rules
There are no specific rules that one can put into words, which show how to manage one's emotions perfectly. Emotions are too complex. They are dependent on too many variables. Yet there are a few guiding principles of a general sort.

Suppose the youngster, two, does not want to eat his carrots or drink his milk or eat other foods you think he should have. You are concerned about his proper nourishment. You want him to eat and of what you prepare for him. You want to cultivate a good appetite in him. But as you seem to face defeat you are vexed and anxious. The youngster sensing your emotions also gets some like them. You urge or try to force the child to eat. He resists with anger. Your vexation wax.

Before you know it there may be an awful scene, the core of which are your emotions and the child's. At the next meal similar emotions arise in you and the youngster, growing in force with time. Practically all eating problems are chiefly emotional, as you can see. Manifestly the parent holds the strategic place. She can do most about it in accordance with her self-control over her emotions.

Think of all the ways in which hampering emotions can hinder you in winning cooperation of the child. Concerning habits, his learning to dress himself and to do other things for himself. Don't overlook the happy emotions which can win his cooperation in all such cases, not excepting eating happily what is set before him.

In A Rage
Call to mind the boy in a rage arguing with the parent over her decision he dislikes, or the youth who sulks or grouches. Normally the emotions of his vex the parent who in turn furthers these unhappy emotions in him.

Consider all the arguments between parent and child, the shrill ugly voices stirring up still greater anger in each other. Or all the parental jawings or exhortations arousing more anger in the child as well as in the jawer and exhorter. Back and forth the emotions swing like a pendulum, only hitting harder with each swing.

Of course, no parent can hope to gain or even closely approach perfection. Nevertheless, one truth is self-evident—every parent can improve in his relation to the child as this parent grows in the art of managing better and better his or her own emotions.

Hints On Etiquette

Do not forget that even where it is not against the law to smoke in shops, it is a dangerous habit.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

The following poem came through the mails . . . we liked it . . . for its message and because it was written by one who says that he had stubbed his toe and is today paying price to society . . . and the letter also states "One wonders what would become of them if someone didn't care" the statement of course referring to the ones who have stubbed their toes and have fallen from the "right" path . . . Here is the poem:

When it seems the world has forgotten you,
Any everything seems to be wrong
Erase from your mind the doubt and despair
And fill your heart with a song.

When you think your faith has been shattered
And you feel you've at last reached the end
Just call to your mind the folks that you know
And somewhere you'll find a true friend.

You'll find there one who will trust you
And will lend you a helping hand;
One who loves you and will help you to climb
To the heights where man should stand.

It's true that sometimes life is cruel
And we're prone to grow bitter, and then
We find that one standing beside us
The one we can call a true friend.

For, it's, when we are hardened and broken
By the selfish and vain acts of men
We find one who won't care what they're saying
And will help us—yes, that's a true friend.

Turn Back!

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Truman "To Stay In Race"

WASHINGTON, March 27.—President Truman and the advisers close to him are busy putting out public and private assurances that the map in the White House has no intention of removing himself from the political scene by renouncing the Democratic nomination at Philadelphia. They say they will stick to the end, come what may.

But what is happening both here and out of the country makes it possible—yes, probable—that the decision will be taken out of his hands. The professional politicians are moving in to save what they can of the party organization, including their own claims in bankruptcy on what is left of the Democratic machine.

That is the real meaning of the talks that have gone forward quietly here and in New York and Chicago. Speculation turns on a respectable ticket that would best hold together what is left of the party.

Talk By Democrats
Democrats on Capitol Hill in touch with dissidents out in the country are talking in terms of Sen. Scott W. Lucas of Illinois for president and House Minority Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas for vice-president. Or the order might be reversed, with Rayburn in No. 1 place and Lucas in No. 2.

In this there is no hope of victory. Reputation of the president by his own party would be too big a handicap to overcome. The campaign would be comparable to that waged in 1924 by John W. Davis, who was nominated after the Democratic party, in the Madison Square Garden convention of that year, had all but destroyed itself over Al Smith, the Ku Klux Klan and the Catholic issue.

The candidates would give a respectable imitation of a campaign, doing it as cheaply as possible since, naturally, large contributors would not be flocking in to volunteer donations. In this way utter

The World and the Mud Puddles

CHILDREN DELINQUENCY, RUSSIA, ETC.

That which hath been, it was written long ago, shall be. Well, maybe Socrates was right when he complained many centuries ago.

"The children now love luxury, they have bad manners, contempt for their elders, and love chatter in the place of exercise. Children are now the tyrants, not the servants, of their households. They no longer rise when their elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up dainties at the table, cross their legs and tyrannize over their teachers."

After all, we seem to be about where we started from.

But maybe parents weren't so hot in those days, either.

Of making many books, as the wise man said long ago, there is no end—particularly among the attaches of the Roosevelt regime. Already Jim Farley, Madame Perkins, Henry Morgenthau, Jim Brynes and Elliott Roosevelt has given us the benefit, if any, of their memoirs. Now running in the magazines and newspapers are the personal recollections of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull and former Secretary of War Henry Stimson. And any moment in all probability, Eleanor herself will come along to cap the reminiscence climax.

Thus far, it may be impartially added, the quantity of literature has run ahead of the quality. History will have to comb the chaff pretty thoroughly to find any wheat.

Riding a bus the other day a friend of mine had the good fortune to sit down beside a little old lady of unusual equanimity and common sense. The conversation, as usual, eventually came around to Russia. "Whooosh!" she exclaimed (thus vindicating the suspicion of Scotch ancestry), "why don't we have sense enough to quit worrying about them?"

There might, we couldn't help thinking, be a hint here for our diplomats and politicians.

Why not let Russia worry about us for a while—if there must be worry—instead of sitting up nights and working overtime days to worry about Russia?

We owe Russia nothing. She owes us several billion dollars under the lend-lease, besides some ninety odd ships we "loaned" her—and which she never returned.

We have no unfilled promises to Russia, in spite of the free-handed

State Police Say:

Discard those murderous beliefs.

The "Spirit of '76" concept. The courage and daring of our forefathers in risking all for their ideals and purposes is an American tradition to be preserved. Yet that spirit itself can easily be misinterpreted. Our forefathers took risks but not unnecessary risks. They certainly were not sissies. They certainly wouldn't have "opened-up" their cars to 70 miles per hour on the highway just to show they had daring—as so many of our youths do today. No, we don't have to drink recklessly to prove we aren't sissies.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1947, By The Baltimore Sun)

Democrats Second Place Problem

WASHINGTON, March 27.—EXACTLY what the idea of magnifying the so-called "revolt" against Mr. Truman of a few lesser machine politicians of New York and a couple of third-grade ones in Chicago would be easier to understand if they or anyone else had an alternative. Talk about drafting General Eisenhower as head of the Democratic ticket, of course, is too stupid to waste time refuting. There is not so much as a suggestion of anything else.

THIS sort of attack from this kind of politician should do Mr. Truman more good than harm. It differs from the real revolt in the South in that there is neither conviction nor principle behind it but only a peculiarly sordid and selfish species of big-city politics. It will not change the basic fact that, though defeat is threatened, Mr. Truman will make a better Democratic showing than any other available man. If he should be scared out by raucous publicity and cheap threats, in the language of the precinct boys, it would, indeed, be "Kitty, Bar the Door." Not much heed is given to this idea by the Administration "strategists," but from some a lament is heard that the concededly dim chances of Democratic success make it more difficult to fill the second place on the ticket. Perhaps, they are right about this; but it does not matter whether they are or not.

FOR the whole discussion of the vice presidential nominee is based on two totally unsound assumptions. The first is that it is essential to "balance" the ticket geographically. That is to say the vice presidential candidate must not come from the same section of the country as the head of the ticket. The second is that the essential quality for the vice presidential candidate is ability to carry his own State for the ticket. Neither theory is worth anything at all. For one thing there is no record to show that any vice presidential candidate ever carried for the head of the ticket his own or any other State that would not have been carried with any other running mate or none. In other words, there is no proof that in any election the vice presidential candidate either helped or hurt. There is only one real way in which he can help and that is through his ability, either personality or by his friends, to make a large financial contribution to the party campaign fund.

THAT used to be considered an asset. It still is one. The plain fact is that it makes little difference who has the second place. Of course, it would be disadvantageous to name a grossly unfit man. After all, seven Vice Presidents have succeeded to the presidency through the death of the President and, at least, surface qualifications to meet that contingency are required. Also, it would seem absurd to nominate for second place a man whose record and views were not in accord with those of the head of the ticket on the main issues of the campaign. That would tend to make the ticket ridiculous. For example, it would be silly to nominate with Mr. Truman, whom the organized labor bosses support because he vetoed the Taft-Hartley bill, a man who either voted for that bill or believes Mr. Truman made a mistake in vetoing it. Five members of the Truman Cabinet hold that belief and clear the majority of Democratic members of Congress not only voted for the bill but voted to override the Truman veto. Without them, of course, it could never have become a law.

THE labor bosses, who are Mr. Truman's main group reliance, have all these men on their black lists as "enemies of labor." Their avowed purpose is to drive them out of public life. The selection of one of them as the Truman running mate seems a clear absurdity. Yet, by some Administration "strategists" the names of certain men on these lists apparently continue to be seriously considered. It ought to be clear that Mr. Truman cannot have it both ways. Certainly he cannot get the labor-boss support because of his veto of the bill and then, by making one of them his running mate, gain the support of those who thought that veto a great mistake. At once the bosses would begin to believe that they had been "betrayed"—and they would have reason to.

WHEN the late Mr. Roosevelt supported Mr. Truman for second place in 1944 he insisted he first be "cleared with Sidney." Obviously, no one who voted for or approved the Taft-Hartley bill could be "cleared" this time without complete stultification. Mr. Truman could not get any first-grade mate to do that. Of course, the only running mate who makes sense this time is one who either voted against the bill or was known definitely to disapprove the Taft-Hartley bill. Under the circumstances, the logical running mate is some Democratic senator, or governor, or Cabinet member who has the same views on domestic issues. Among the governors is his friend, Governor Walgren of Washington. In the Cabinet there are Secretaries Schweikenbach, Clark and Krug. In the Senate there is Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, who is eager for the honor, and Senator O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, who is being currently boomed.

IT is useless to talk of General Marshall, Mr. Forrestal or Chief Justice Vinson. Not one of them is available. Neither is Justice Douglas, though obviously he loves publicity on the subject. Considering them all, Senator Pepper seems the logical selection. He not only voted against the Taft-Hartley bill and to sustain the veto but screamed his denunciation from its inception. He also is the only Southern Senator who lines up with Mr. Truman on his "civil-rights" program which has put the South in revolt. Besides, he is the No. 1 hero of the CIO, a Senator who never fails to vote and speak as it comes. Though so "liberal" as to be more red than pink, Mr. Truman need not fear that by picking Mr. Pepper he would lose any State he otherwise might carry. And, at least, the ticket would be consistent.

Jobs Upon A Time

Moving Picture Comedian Hugh Herbert was on the stage for 23 years as actor, comedian and playwright. He has written 150 plays, vaudeville sketches, and plays which were produced by Sam Harris and A. H. Woods. Herbert made his screen debut as playwright and actor about 1913 in "Mind Your Business," and has made many pictures since that time. He was born in Binghamton, N. Y., and is a graduate of Cornell University.

Lovely Rita Hayworth danced at the Foreign Club in Tia Juana, Mexico, then at Agua Caliente. She commenced her career in moving pictures in 1935 with "Dante's Inferno."

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

BY H. T. WEBSTER

WASHINGTON—President Truman . . . "The revolt of the Southern Democrats doesn't disturb me a bit. . . I'm going to leave the door open and give them a chance to walk back in. . ."

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations . . . "The United Nations has lost very much of its prestige—especially in connection with the work of the Security Council."

NEW YORK—Harold J. Laski, former chairman of the British Labor Party . . . "Russians are afraid of the United States, but will go as far as they can until they are told to stop. The Russians are thinking that the United States is thinking of another major war."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-O.) . . . "President Truman's explanation of the change in the U. S. stand on Palestine only emphasizes the complete confusion of the administration's policy. . ."

THE PUBLICITY HUNTER

THE STONE WAS ROLLED AWAY

Once again, on Sunday morning, the Christian world will observe the most significant event in the history of the church, the Resurrection. To the Christian it symbolizes the birth of new hope, the triumph of life over death, the promise of salvation.

To that little group gathered at the tomb in the dawn of that eventful Sabbath, hope seemed to have fled. The stone had been rolled away, the tomb was empty, the body of our Lord was gone.

Their disappointment was a temporary one for they learned as we now believe, that he had risen from the earthly tomb to take on immortality. He had triumphed over the forces of evil, no more could the slings and arrows of mortal man affect him.

All Christian churches, no matter their denomination, will have the same message Sunday morning. The message of hope and joy and life, the message of triumph, the message of the Man of Galilee.

Today there is another stone that needs to be removed, the stone of fear that weights the hearts of mankind all over the world. Fear of war, fear of oppression, fear of the machinations of governments of evil men.

On that first Easter morning, the Light of the World shone forth. If the world would accept the truths he taught, and put into practice his way of life, the modern day stone would be rolled away and to the glory of the Resurrection would be added the joys of world peace.

THE GOLDEN CENTURY

It was in 1848, just 100 years ago, that gold was discovered in California, a vast territory of a few thousand inhabitants which the United States had recently annexed from Mexico. Men looked with calculating eyes at the gold in the western sunset, and some of them went mad. The golden century—or was it the gilded age?—was starting.

The gold rush became a mad scramble in '49. But it got off to a slow start after gold was discovered near Coloma in January. There were no wire services to flash the news across the continent. It was not until September, eight months later, that the news reached the nation's capital. It was not until December that a presidential message by James K. Polk confirmed the importance and the reality of the discovering for most skeptical Americans.

That was only a century ago, but California was hard to get to. There were no railroads west of the Mississippi. Those who wanted to go to California could travel by clipper round the horn or run the gauntlet of hostile Indians in a prairie schooner. Enough Americans took one route or the other in '49 to triple or quadruple California's population.

By 1852 gold production in California reached the banner figure of $81,294,270, and the population had grown beyond all belief to 25,000.

Today California's population has passed 10,000,000, or more than enough to exhaust the banner year's supply of gold in a single week if they all got $30 every Thursday. The state's population is increasing so rapidly that even a new gold rush would hardly be noticed.

Gold, in short, has lost its lure. California's climate, the intangible gold in the sunset, is a stronger magnet than the underground metal ever was.

CHURCHILL'S LANGUAGE

In the British House of Commons, the other day, Glenvil Hall, of the Treasury, remarked on Winston Churchill's "forceful if not always grammatical English." He related what the former prime minister wrote on the margin of a document by way of disapproval.

It might be supposed he would write merely "humbug" or "balderdash" or some other epithet. But that sort of thing, all by itself, wouldn't do. Not strong enough. He wanted not only to classify the thing for what it was, but to record his lasting resolve as to any future action of his in regard to it.

He could have written, perhaps, "This is nonsense I won't put up with." That would have been getting warm. What he did write, according to Mr. Hall, was as follows: "This is nonsense up with which I will not put."

It is not hard to imagine the cherubic malice in his face as he wrote that punch line. As Florian Slappey, Octavius Roy Cohen's famous Negro character, might have said:

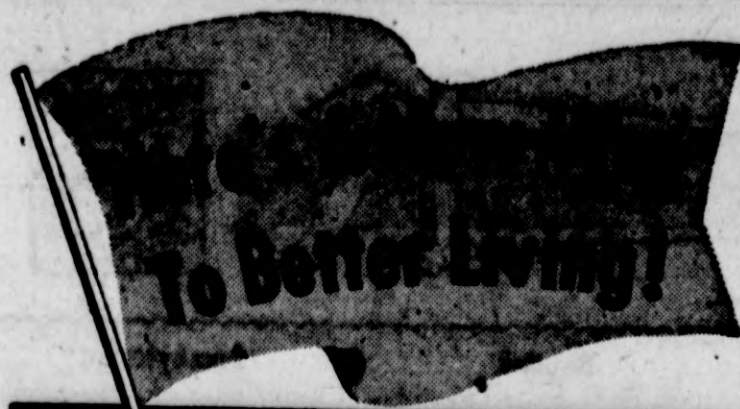

Emphatic language is one of the fondest things Mr. Churchill is of.

Henry Wallace claims Truman is aiding the communist cause. If so, what is he complaining about?

The nation is making preparations for defense in case of war. A good step in that direction would be to get the coal miners back to work.

The American home, declares a careful but rather sarcastic observer, is where part of the family waits until other members return with the car.

Apparently the nation is safe so far as food is concerned. Pictures of tomatoes in the new seed catalogues show them to be as big and rosy as ever.

Ice Breaker In Effort To Save Seal Hunters

GLOUCESTER, Mass., March 27.—(INS)—The Canadian ice-breaker Saurel struggled through ice-choked gulf of St. Lawrence today to save 20 seal hunters in danger of having their vessel splintered by the ice.

The Mary S. Hyde, owned by the Gorton Pew Fisheries company of Gloucester, was reported drifting helplessly with a broken rudder in the path of an ice pack which already has crushed two others. She is without a radio.

Fears lessened for the 26 men aboard the Alfred & Emily, out of Halifax, N. S., after her skipper, Capt. A. M. Shaw, reported that lessening winds and milder temperatures probably would allow him to free his ship from its icy ring.

The Saurel yesterday took 37 other shipwrecked seal hunters to Sidney, N. S., after they had struggled over tortuous miles of ice floes to the island of St. Paul, after their vessels were squeezed to splinters and sank.

Without Clues In Wheeling Slaying

Find Altered License Plate Near Place Alleged Murder Weapon Was Discovered

WHEELING, W. Va., March 27.—(INS)—Police today reported no new developments in the shotgun slaying of Harry W. Weidetz, alleged Wheeling gambling czar, after a two-hour questioning of the murdered man's widow, Mrs. Frieda Weidetz.

She told police that Weidetz had never discussed business with her. Police theorized that Weidetz was shot either by a man who owed him money and didn't want to pay, or because he had failed to "pay off."

Believe Gunman Hired Police also said that they believed a "hired" out-of-town gunman had done the job. The search yesterday led to Youngstown, Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

After finding an altered license plate near where the murder gun was found, police said that the owner, Norman Smoke of Cleveland, told them it had been stolen from his car Oct. 10.

Cleveland police reported that they had run across several similarly doctored license plates used on criminal jobs. The altering job was very skillful, police said.

generosity of our late President. (We continue yet)

We are not obliged to contribute to the Soviet satellite nations one cent in order to save their peoples from starvation, because Russia has definitely removed them from our sphere.

Most of all we do not have to worry about Russia from any sense of fear. If anybody is afraid, we are not, but Russia is.

Let us go on with our own affairs, and with what we regard as fair and decent in Europe. The little old Scotch lady is right. Take care of our own business, and "whoosh" for the outsiders, Russia or what not.

One more result of secret and personal executive commitments crops up with the protests in Congress against further shipments of machinery and equipment to Russia from the American occupation zone in Germany. Under this commitment, it may be remembered, Russia was to take all industrial equipment desired from the Soviet zone, together with a liberal percentage from the British and American zones. With the Soviet zone practically stripped, the Russians kept on shipping out equipment from the United States zone. Congress may well protest, but probably it can't do anything about it, because the deal is just another aspect of the Roosevelt appeasement policy.

The common cold is one of the most highly infectious of all communicable diseases.

support the president. But the ground-swell of revolution back home made that impossible.

This, plus the situation with respect to the delegates to the Democratic convention and the Democratic electors to be chosen in the Alabama primary. Of 28 candidates for electors to go to the electoral college and cast Alabama's 11 electoral votes in November, 22 had pledged that they would not cast them for Harry S. Truman. Thus if Hill, running for delegate to the Philadelphia convention, were pledged to Truman, he would be committed to a candidate who could not receive the vote of his state.

See Truman Defeat

Surveying the gloomy scene, the party's professionals realized that Mr. Truman might go down to a defeat as sweeping as that of Alf Landon in 1936. GOP Candidate Landon carried only two states, Maine and Vermont.

If the tide of southern revolt continues at the present flood, Mr. Truman seems likely to lose all of the states south of the Mason and Dixon line with the exception of North Carolina and possibly Florida. Gov. Millard Caldwell of Florida has said that he will do everything he can to prevent Mr. Truman's nomination but, failing to prevent it, he will not lead a move to deprive Candidate Truman of the state's electoral vote.

The southern states would accept a Lucas-Rayburn ticket. They would, in fact, accept almost any other Democrat than the present occupant of the White House.

Thus, by sidetracking Mr. Truman, the Democrats would carry the solid south. They might pick up other scattered states, particularly if the Republicans go back to William McKinley for their candidate. They might save congressional seats in cities which would otherwise go down in the general ruin.

The presidency is a powerful office in more ways than one. But whether the present president could head off such a move, if and when it takes final and definite form, is highly uncertain.

New Jersey Man At Youth Rally

Youth For Christ Service Will Take Place Again Tonight At Central Presbyterian

Rev. John F. Trader, of Jersey City, N. J., will be heard this evening, at 8 o'clock, in the New Castle Youth for Christ Rally which will take place in the Central Presbyterian church on the Public Square.

The speaker is a young man of unusual talent and conducted an orchestra before entering the ministry. He had been in charge of a large youth group in New York state. He will play on the saxophone during the evening meeting. Joseph Reed, young trombone soloist will augment the instrumental music during the evening. Youth for Christ plans to resume services at the First Baptist church next week, when Miss Lee, a consecrated Chinese Christian lady, will speak.

Croton Youth To Give Easter Play

Young people of Croton Methodist church will present an Easter play, "The Seamless Coat," by Anne Martens, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the sanctuary. The plot is laid in Jerusalem in the room of the Roman soldier who cast the lucky lot and received the Coat of Christ. The time is evening of the third day after the Crucifixion.

The cast includes the following: Marc Roman garrison chief, Harry Booth; Claudius, his friend, William Emerick; Miriam, a follower of the Nazarene, Joan McQuiston; and Nazarene, a man in need, James Cox. The play is being given under the direction of Mrs. Russell Gormley.

Trinity Episcopal To Observe Easter

At 6 a. m. on Easter Day at the Choral Holy Eucharist in Trinity Episcopal church, the organist, Miss Isabel Johnson, will play as the prelude to the service, "Resurrection Morn," by Johnston. The choir will sing Gounod's "Setting of the Holy Eucharist." The offertory anthem will be "Beautiful Saviour," by Christianson. At the 11 a. m. Festival Choral Eucharist the organ prelude will include: "Fugue in Eb" (St. Anne) by J. S. Bach; "Visions" by Rhineberger; and "Resurrection Morn," by Johnston. The choir will sing the Maundy choral setting of the "Holy Eucharist." The offertory anthem will be "This Is the Day," by Christianson; and the offertory anthem will be "The organ postlude will be "Jubilant Deo," by Silver. Rev. Fr. Ralph E. Hovencamp will preach at both services.

Church Of God Will Have Easter Cantata

"The Golden Dawn," an Easter pageant, will be presented Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the First Church of God. Mrs. Benjamin is director of the choir, while Mrs. Donald Stewart is accompanist. Solo parts will be sung by Mrs. Bromley, Miss Mary Cummins and Victor Rabberman.

Rev. Vance Shreckengast, the pastor, will speak at an Easter sunrise service which will be conducted at 6:30 o'clock.

SURPRISE SALAD

A salad that will bring smiles of joy from the children is a nest of brightly colored Easter eggs made of flavored gelatin.

Use egg shells for molds. Several days before Easter start saving egg shells from the eggs used in cooking. Keep the egg shells whole—take the egg out of them by tapping a tiny hole in the wide end of the egg about the size of a penny. With a hole in either end of the shell the egg can easily be shaken out of it. Rinse the empty shells with cold water and store them somewhere to dry.

The night before the salad is to be served, get out the collection of empty egg shells and fill them with bright colored gelatin. First, cover the small hole in the small end of the egg with adhesive or scotch tape. Second, put the empty shell molds in sections of an egg carton where they will stand on end and be easier to fill. Then make cherry, lime and lemon or orange gelatin and pour each mold full of the bright colored gelatin. Finely chopped fruits can easily be filled through the hole in the large end of the egg by pouring the gelatin from a small cream pitcher. One could make a cone of wax paper and pour it through, also.

After filling the molds, close the egg carton and put it in the refrigerator where the gelatin will become solid.

Prepare the salads just before dinner the next day. Run just a bit of hot water over each egg shell then crack the shell carefully, and a bright gelatin Easter egg will slide out. Put two or three eggs, each of a different color, in a nest of fresh crisp lettuce, endive or watercress and serve with your favorite salad dressing.

Sunrise Service At Methodist Church

Young Folks Of Ward Churches Sponsor Sunrise Service; Rev. Redmond To Make Address

According to the list of reservations, there will be a large attendance at the Sunrise Service, on Sunday morning at seven o'clock, at Mahoning Methodist church. Following the service, breakfast will be served in the dining room.

Young folks of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian, Christian and Methodist churches are sponsoring this service, with all the congregations welcome.

Bob Bender will be leader of the service. Rev. Howard A. Redmond, Presbyterian pastor, will bring the message, taking as his theme—"The Meaning of Easter." There will be a vocal solo by Miss Betty Robinson, Methodist choir director, and a reading by Miss Virginia Stone.

Splendid Response At Union Service

There was a splendid response in the attendance at the union Holy Week service of ward churches, on Friday, from 12 noon to 3 in afternoon, at Mahoning Methodist church.

Rev. J. L. Petrie, Methodist pastor, presided. Mrs. Alice McClure was organist.

Rev. W. J. Holmes, retired minister; Rev. G. R. D. Braun, Epworth church; Rev. Willard Gallo-way, Harbor U. P.; Rev. R. B. Withers, Rev. James N. Rainey, Central Christian; Rev. Petrie, and Rev. Prof. Walter Biberich, of Madison Christian, each gave meditations on the theme, "The Words From The Cross."

There was a vocal duet by Mrs. Ralph Scowden and Mrs. Herbert Cowley; also Ernest O. Farver and Miss Rebecca Carpenter. Mrs. Chester Johnson, gave a solo.

At the Holy Week Candlelight Communion Service, at Mahoning

Methodist, on Thursday evening, there was a good attendance. On Sunday morning, the Methodist choir will be augmented by a group of young people, to assist in the program of special Easter music.

Chimney Fire Calls Union Twp. Firemen

Union township volunteer fire department responded to a call from the home of Mrs. D. R. Campbell at the intersection of Scotland Lane and the Old Harbor road at 6 p. m. Friday.

Upon arrival, the firemen discovered that wood built into the chimney with the brick had caught on fire from the smokestack of the kitchen heating stove. Firemen were able to extinguish the blaze with a resulting damage of about $10 to the home. The wainscoting and paper of the kitchen were damaged.

Wesley Methodist Presents Cantata

The auditorium of the Wesley Methodist church, West Washington street, was filled to capacity on Friday evening for the presentation of the Easter Cantata by the choir of the church with the assistance of the pastor, Rev. Paul Alek. Rev. Alek read the Easter story from the Scriptures with the choir interspersing the reading with Easter music.

The program opened with the choir singing "Holy City" with the solo role taken by Jack Jones. A quartet, and beautifully, the "Palm" with Jack Jones, Peter Grizzle, Jr., James Kegarise and John Heber taking part. "The Cross Bearer" was the third choral anthem with Mrs. Margaret Chill presented as soloist.

A special arrangement of "In The Garden" was given with Jennie McClure and Mary Ida Alek singing the duet with the choir. Edith Moore and Mrs. James Kegarise took the duet "Easter Dawn" with the choir forming the background. The final number by the choir was entitled "If Ye Then Be Risen With Christ."

A sunrise service is planned in the church for 7 a. m. Sunday with musical numbers on the piano and solo-vox taking place. The annual breakfast will follow in the dining room.

Enlisted Reserve Meeting April 9

There will be a meeting of all members of the Enlisted Reserve Corps of Lawrence county Friday, April 9, at 7 sharp in rooms 516-517 of the Greer building, 24 N. Mercer street.

Matters of importance will be discussed so it is important that all reservists possible attend. At the last meeting it was decided to form an Enlisted Reserve Association of Lawrence county, similar to those already established in other counties throughout the country.

Tuesday noon's luncheon meeting of the New Castle Lions club will feature a fine musical program, to be presented by the capella choir of senior high school, directed by Robert A. Duff, and a treat is being looked forward to by the members.

R. F. Conway, secretary.

Parent-Teachers

Rose Avenue P.T.A. will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock for its regular meeting.

A play will be presented by students of the senior high school under the direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff. Music will complete the program. A social period will follow with refreshments to be served.

FOR A USEFUL, ALL-SEASON VEGETABLE GARDEN there is almost no such thing as planting too early.

Plan for a succession of crops and start the seed as soon as the soil is ready. If you should be caught by a tardy frost you can seed again. If not, your garden will be valuable weeks ahead of schedule.

Here's a helpful test for determining when the ground is ready. Take a handful of soil and crush it between your fingers. If you can make a mud pie with it, it's still too wet. If it crumbles apart it is time to plant.

KEEP YOUR GARDEN HEALTHY—WATER IT THOROUGHLY AT LEAST ONCE A WEEK IF THERE IS NO HEAVY RAINFALL.

Guard Pilots Receive Exams

Capt. Francis Callahan And Lt. William C. Rowland
Prepare For Duties

Capt. Francis G. Callahan, of Butler, and First Lt. William C. Rowland, of this city, flew to Harrisburg recently to qualify for their duties as flight officers with the 229th Field Artillery.

Capt. Callahan appeared before an Officer's Examining Board at Indiantown Gap, while Lt. Rowland took a check ride and appeared before an Army board for re-rating as liaison pilot in the Field Artillery.

Capt. Callahan was a flight commander and flight instructor at the department of Air Training, Fort Sill, Okla. He held an active duty position as a Group Air Officer for the 178th Field Artillery Group in the Mediterranean Theater.

He also holds a commercial pilot's license with an instructor's rating.

Capt. Callahan's duties with the 229th are to be that of liaison officer. Lt. Rowland will be a liaison pilot with the local unit.

Dog Catching Joins High Cost Parade

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—Add signs of the times: Not only has the cost of living increased, but also the cost of catching dogs.

The women's Pennsylvania S. P. C. A. official dog-catching agency has asked $65,000 for renewal of its contract which expires March 31.

This is an increase of $33,500 as compared with the contract drawn up in 1939.

Mrs. T. Harry West, society president, explained the society's 50 employees have asked for higher pay, a prospective expense which must be passed along.

Army Moving To Build Up Officer Strength Now

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—The Army moved today to build up its officer strength by cancelling orders to muster out reserve and temporary officers.

Personnel officers were unable to estimate the exact number who would remain in service, but one order, cancelling inactive duty for over-age reserve officers would affect about 4,200.

The Army also stopped action to reduce temporary officers who hold high permanent enlisted rank to the grade of master sergeant.

Estimates of officers who would be retained regardless of age ran as high as 20,000. Heretofore reserve officers could resign upon request. Under the new ruling they can leave service only if they are considered inefficient by their commanders or if they can prove hardship.

The temporary officers to be retained are those who had not qualified for regular commissions under the army's officer integration program. Last month they were ordered out of service as of April 30. This order was rescinded.

Munitions Guards Ordered To Shoot
Marauders In Italy

ROME, March 27.—(INS)—Sentries guarding the vast munitions dumps in northern Italy were ordered today to shoot night marauders on sight.

The drastic order, issued by the Italian army's Lombardy command, was said to stem from indications that the recent arms factory explosion at Arcisate was the result of sabotage.

Italians, amid increasing pre-election tension, awaited a further statement by Communist Leader Palmiro Togliatti on the Trieste issue.

Togliatti said yesterday that, if the Communists and their Allies should win the April 18 election, the Trieste question could be settled by direct Italo-Yugoslav negotiations within 48 hours.

BOYS SHOW VACATION WEEK ENTERPRISE

Scout Camping Dates Announced

County Boy Scouts May Attend
Summer Sessions From July 11 To July 31

Following a meeting of the Lawrence County Council Camping and Activities Committee, Mr. E. D. Hawk, chairman, wishes to announce that the Boy Scouts of Lawrence County will be privileged to attend the regular summer camp from July 11 to July 31.

Contrary to the general trend of higher prices, the committee has gone on record of recommending a lower fee than prevailed last year. This will be good news to the Scouts.

The lower fee will by no means be reflected in the standard which the council has established for high grade leadership and good food. It is the hope and desire of the committee that the recommended lower fees, a greater number of Boy Scouts will avail themselves of the opportunities for adventure and fun which camp alone can provide.

The committee is hopeful of announcing the camp personnel within the next few weeks. The continuation of the Canadian Canoe Trip was given favorable consideration by the committee. Scouts fifteen years of age who have attained first class rank, in excellent physical condition are eligible for this great adventure.

The Republic leader declared: "I wouldn't be surprised if there were less than 80 votes cast against the bill."

Eaton anticipated that "perhaps 50" amendments would be offered when voting begins Monday, but indicated he expected no major change in the bill from the floor. The House leadership is pressing for final passage by nightfall Tuesday.

"End of the Month Worries" affect the small fry in the family as well as the wage earner. A group of small boys in the North Hill district decided to do something about those worries during their Easter vacation period.

While other boys were playing ball, shooting marbles and what ever else small boys do on a nice spring day with no school, the group of fellows in the above photo collected newspapers and old magazines to buy their hearts' desires.

The boys, all students at George Washington Junior High, are George Weinschenk, George Bement, Bill Philpott, Bob Atwood and another boy who was off doing more business when The News photographer arrived on the scene of activities. The little fellow in the foreground of the picture is little four year old, Bill Hasen, was just a spectator, but enjoy things as much as the boys who were profiting by their labor.

When asked what they intended to do with their earnings, one youngster replied, "It's the end of the month and—". Another remarked that the boy who was missing intended to take "his woman" to the show. All in all, idle hands and active minds turned spare moments to profit.

Austrian Recovery Is Being Hampered

VIENNA, March 27.—(INS)—Austrian Chancellor Dr. Leopold Figl said today that Austria's existence is not endangered despite lack of progress on peace treaty talks in London.

He told International News Service, however, that Austria's economic recovery is being hampered by delays, Figl said.

"I admit that negotiations are not developing according to our expectations since he had hoped for positive results."

"Our policy will remain unchanged even if the conference does not succeed and we will continue to press for complete Austrian sovereignty."

Figl pointed out that Austria's immediate need is more arms for its security force.

College Park Is Name Given To Trailer Barracks

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 27.—(INS)—College park is the official name given to West Virginia University's busy self-sufficient trailer barracks settlement that houses World War II veteran students and their families.

The settlement opened on June 16, 1946, and today is populated by approximately 500 adults and 146 children.

For these residents there are such services as a baby clinic, nearby Sunday school classes, and a cooperative grocery store.

To help administer the affairs of College Park there is a 10-member city council, whose members are elected twice a year.

There is also a veterans' co-operative store, which is operated chiefly to help cut present day food costs. It has already distributed $50,000 worth of goods.

STARTS 119TH YEAR
PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—The oldest weekly newspaper in Pennsylvania, the German town Telegraph, Philadelphia, founded in 1830, will begin its 119th year of continuous publication this month.

The paper has a paid mail circulation throughout Germantown, Mt. Airy and Chestnut Hill sections of Philadelphia.

The publication is one of the five oldest weeklies in America and is a member of the American Century club and the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce. Many families of the section have read the Telegraph for six generations.

Radior Being Used In Medical Science

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—Radior played an important part in World War II in preventing sudden attacks by enemy craft from land, sea and air, and thus saving many lives.

Today medical science is using the same instrument to attack human ills in which heat applications are a necessary therapy.

Dr. Ruth N. Miller, a resident in physical medicine in the University of Pennsylvania hospital and graduate school, indicated that experiments were made with the assistance of eight volunteer persons in good health.

The involved procedure has not yet been tried extensively on deceased persons.

University of Pennsylvania authorities currently are campaigning for $10,000,000 with which to build a Philadelphia medical center, having for its nucleus existing building and facilities of the University hospital and school of medicine.

Face Threat Of Defeat Rather Than Accept Wallace

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Two California congressmen—Helen Gahagan Douglas and Chet Holifield—today faced the threat of defeat in their campaigns for re-election rather than accept the support of Henry Wallace's third party.

The Los Angeles representatives, both Democrats, have rejected invitations from the Independent Progressive party, which is supporting Wallace for president in California, to run on both tickets.

Harper Poulson, chairman of the IPP's Southern California organizing committee, invited the two to avail themselves of the opportunity offered by the California election law to cross-file.

Poulson advised them that although they supported the Marshall plan, to which Wallace was opposed, the IPP was prepared to back them because of their liberal record in Congress.

Holifield advised Poulson in an exchange of correspondence made public in Washington that he regarded the Wallace movement as "destructive" and expressed the view that "it will divide liberal strength and defeat liberal candidates for both the House and the Senate."

Streets Were Never Intended As All Night Parking Garages

Parking your car or your truck all night on the street is not only unsightly, it is actually dangerous. Too many accidents were caused in the past year by this practice.

As an association we are asking all our members not to park trucks upon the city streets all night. To those truck owners who are not members of PMTA we suggest that in the interests of safety they discontinue the practice.

It may save a few minutes of your time, by parking on the street all night, but it may cost a life. That's too high a parking fee to pay.

York police on a murder charge growing out of the bludgeoning of a retired railroad worker.

The victim, William W. Nye, 72, collapsed at his 70-year-old wife's feet after the beating and the shock caused her death.

Barber, who told police he had been released Tuesday from the Maryland House of Correction after serving a term for assault and robbery, probably will be hauled into court during the April term.

Police said Barber had served terms in two other prisons for similar offenses.

Identified By Knife
The youth was apprehended at the Pennsylvania railroad station in York after Darwin Martin, a Chicago used car salesman, to whom he had sold a penknife identified as Nye's, summoned police.

Robert Draucker, Nye's neighbor, identified the knife for police.

Nye died in York General hospital eight hours after he had crawled home. He had been gathering dirt for some flowers when the beating was administered, according to police.

Dr. Lewis C. Pusch, hospital pathologist, said Nye died of an indentured fracture of the skull and expressed the opinion that a blunt instrument was used. No weapon was found, police said.

Chicago Commuters Are Stranded By Railway Strike

Report 72,000 Commuters Affected
By Strike, Men Seeking Higher Wages

CHICAGO, March 27.—(INS).—
Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee Railway workers struck today for higher wages and left 72,000 commuters in 18 Chicago suburbs without their normal means of transportation.

North Shore President Bernard J. Fallon declared no effort would be made to operate the Chicago-to-Milwaukee system and its affiliated bus lines. He said the road would cease its operations completely.

Reject Proposals
Fallon rejected all suggestions made by the union and commuters for keeping the system in operation. He said the company had operated with a $95,000 deficit in 1947 and was incapable of paying a 15 1/2 cents hourly wage increase suggested by the federal railway mediation board.

Four hundred seventy-five members of division 900 were involved in the strike, but a total of 1,675 workers were affected.

The United States must import most of the fibers used in making rope.

(Thirty-seventh of a Series)

DR. GERSHON SAMUEL BENNETT

In every community there are those persons who emerge as leaders in the field of civic endeavor—men and women, who, when their final biographies are written and their deeds are summed up will have left an indelible mark on the scroll of our city's history and progress.

Such a man is Dr. Gershon Samuel Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, a transplanted Australian whose untiring efforts to build a better New Castle and help her in time of need have stamped him as one of our greatest citizens.

Dr. Bennett, who admits that his chief aim in life is to defeat poverty, want and ignorance through the media of religion, and the welfare and social sciences, has never shirked any duty asked of him.
For 20 years, since answering the call to the church on the public square, Dr. Bennett has been an integral part of the civic machinery of New Castle.

Born in Adelaide
Dr. Bennett was born in Adelaide, South Australia, in 1882, the son of Samuel and Reyna Bennett.

He spent the first 24 years of his life "down under" and at the age of 19 had already decided upon the ministry and was the youngest pastor in that part of the island continent.

"In Australia," he explained,
"if a man wanted to become a minister, he began his preaching life and then if he was found to have the qualities, he took up his studies."

Dr. Bennett was very active in sports in his native land, playing forward on the football team and as a catcher with the cricket team, and serving as captain of both.

In the year 1906 he emigrated to the United States to further his education and entered the preparatory department of Hiram College. He was graduated from the latter school with an A. B. degree in 1913 and went on to attend Union Seminary and Columbia University in New York City, spending five more years of his life in study. He was ordained as a minister in 1913.

First Pastorate
Dr. Bennett's first pastorate was at the First Christian church in Minneapolis, Minn., and he also was minister at the West Boulevard church in Cleveland.

Dr. Bennett accepted the position of professor of Bible at Hiram and later took over the same chair at Bethany College in West Virginia. While at Bethany he was captain coach of the debating team and mentor of the baseball nine.

The dean of the city's ministers he is now the oldest in point of service, immediately fitted into the community life here when he arrived in 1928.

His altruistic efforts are long and varied and worthy of noting.

In 1933 he served on the State Federal Labor Service board and in 1934 was named chairman of the Emergency Relief Board, an exacting job, since at that time nearly one-third of the city's population was dependent upon relief. For his administrative skill and understanding in that position he was presented a medal by the city's service clubs, a singular honor.

The same year, Dr. Bennett was elected president of the Ministerial Association.

The years 1935-36 found him on the Community Character Board and serving as vice-chairman of the State Relief Board, a post he held until 1937.

In 1938 he was on the Department of Public Assistance board and the Board of Appeals. He also was affiliated with the Lawrence County United Public Welfare Service in 1938-39. He was president of the Boy Scout Council in 1939 and received that body's Silver Beaver award the same year for his efforts in the field of scouting.

Other Posts Held
Other duties have found him on the Mayor's Relief Committee 1933-39, with the Civic Music Association, secretary of the Community Chest board for 15 years, director of the Union Bible classes at the Y.W.C.A., member of the Parks Commission, president of the Church Baseball League, member of the County War Finance committee, one of the original organizers of the U.S.O. and a member of the Citizens' Service Corps during World War II.

Besides all these demanding outside duties, Dr. Bennett has found time to carry on his work as pastor, and attend the meetings of the Masons (he is a thirty-second degree member).

He is a member of the Phi Kappa Tau and Tau Kappa Alpha fraternities, is an honorary member of the Kiwanis and a "Lion at large."

Many Awards Recognition of his services to the community have come in the presentation of a pin from the American Red Cross for his work with that organization, and a medal and certificate for his work as chairman of the speakers' committee during the War Bond drives.

Other honors of note have been his biographies in the Who's Who of the clergy, Who's Who in Pen-sylvania, Who's Who in the East and the supplement of the national edition. He is one of the few ministers in the country to be so recorded.

Dr. Bennett is in great demand as a public speaker and has delivered many addresses on international affairs. Last summer he attended a religious seminar at the UN meetings at Lake Success, N. Y.

Asked whether he thought the United Nations is failing or had any chance of survival, he said:
"I still maintain strong hopes for peace and I believe that it is still possible to make the UN setup a success. I think one of the United States' greatest needs is education of the individual—a complete understanding of the current problems, their causes and probable effects. We owe this to ourselves, for only if we seek to understand the issues of the day can we meet and solve them."

"Too many people refuse to make a study of these tumultuous times, and shrug off the issues as 'things that don't concern them'.
They involve each of us, vitally, and only if we face them squarely, with wisdom, can we reach a decision."

Dr. Bennett is married to the former Edith L. Smith of Chardon, O., and is the father of three children. Raymond is a director in a VA office in Detroit. Lawrence is in the Yale Divinity school, and Doris Ann (Mrs. Paul C. Hunter) resides in New York City. There are three grandchildren.

Veteran Vaudeville Performer Is Dead

NEW ORLEANS, March 27.— (INS).—Charles Farrington, 70, veteran of the vaudeville stage, is dead.

A native of Liverpool, Eng., and known in vaudeville circles as "The Jolly Englishman," Farrington died in Charity Hospital at New Orleans.

Farrington made his first stage appearance in New Orleans 53 years ago. Before that he was with the Montigue Robot Minstrels, the famous British troupe.

Funeral services are scheduled for today.

Rev. W. F. Byers To Conclude Pastorate

Will Preach At Final Service In New Wilmington Church
On Sunday

NEW WILMINGTON, March 27.
—Dr. Edwin Lewis of Drew Theological Seminary delivered an inspiring address Friday evening at a union communion service in the United Presbyterian church which brought to a close the Holy Week services.

The United Presbyterian church choir under the direction of James Ralston provided special music.
All local churches have special Easter services planned. Rev. W.
F. Byers will conclude his long period of service at the Neshannock Presbyterian church with the day's services.

Rev. George A. Myers, pastor of the Methodist church, has announced that he will begin a two-week preaching mission for Christian revival Sunday evening at 8.
The public is invited.

Next Wednesday evening the service will feature the choir of the Grace Methodist church of Grove City in a program sponsored by the youth of the local church. The visiting choir will sing the sacred cantata, "The Last Seven Words of Christ" by Theodore DuBois.

Miss Ruth Sewall, daughter of Mrs. Mary Sewall, Maple street, has been invited to serve as piano accompanist for Fred Waring's Music Workshop at Shawnee-on-Delaware Country club June 13-
Aug. 27.

Miss Sewall will be associated with about 650 music educators from the United States and Canada who will assemble for instruction in conducting under the direction of Mr. Waring.

A graduate of Westminster college in 1939, Miss Sewall taught piano at the college for one year.
She is at present an instructor in vocal music at Shaker Heights junior high school, Cleveland.

She is now visiting her mother and her brother, Russell.

Blast Furnaces In Youngstown Are Shut Down

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 27.— (INS).—Nine blast furnaces of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company were scheduled today to be shut down if the bituminous coal dispute is not settled by Monday.

Company officials announced that three more blast furnaces, six open hearths and other operations will be suspended on Monday if the mine shutdown is still in effect.

The curtailments mean only three of the company's seven blast furnaces will be working with pig iron production estimated at 43 per cent.

Open Hearths Working
However, the company's open hearth still be producing at about 75 per cent. The company has 24 open hearth furnaces.

The contemplated shutdowns include five open hearths and two blast furnaces at the Campbell works, and one open hearth and one blast furnace down at Brier Hill.

Three coke batteries at Brier
Hill will also be affected.
The company already has one blast furnace down at Brier Hill where coke production is reported at about 50 per cent.

A flock of geese, flying over England, were never seen by human eye, yet the RAF radar station kept them in the field for 99 minutes, and knew exactly what speed they were traveling the entire time.

Lewistown Church Damaged By Fire

Alert Organist Discovers Blaze In Basement And Turns
In Alarm

LEWISTOWN, Pa., March 27.—(INS)—An alert organist was credited today with saving the half million dollar Lewistown Presbyterian church from destruction by fire.

Mrs. Frank E. Kohler smelled smoke while practicing for Easter services and discovered a pool of oil burning in the church basement. She summoned aid from a nearby residence and returned to the church where she was trapped temporarily following the explosion of an oil tank.

Oil-fueled flames flowed down a hallway connecting the church of fire and Sunday school rooms.

Firemen, who rescued Mrs. Kohler, reported a stairway leading to the church was destroyed and beams beneath the pulpit charred. Damage was estimated at several thousand dollars.

Seeks Transfer Of Court Trial

SCRANTON, Pa., March 27.—(INS)—Former U. S. Attorney Frank J. McDonnell, of Scranton, indicted for conspiring to obstruct justice in the Middle Court District of Pennsylvania, today sought to have his trial switched from Lewisburg to Scranton.

McDonnell stated in his petition to the court that a "fair and impartial" trial could not be held at Lewisburg. The trial has been docketed for April 2 in federal court.

Three other men named in the indictment plan similar petitions. They were Ralph G. Mastriani, of Scranton, and Vincent D'Angelico of Lackawanna county prison for a $4500 payroll robbery at Scranton three years ago.

The government has charged that the men sought to persuade William Recupero, of Scranton, to testify along certain lines when Katz was on trial for complicity in a sugar black market.

Pittsburgh Leads In Tax Refunds

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh office of the internal revenue today led the country in refunding income taxes for the third year, according to Collector Stanley Granger.

Recommendations for refunds were completed at Pittsburgh 11 days after the filing deadline and 15 days ahead of last year. The office processed some 916,679 refunds amounting to $35,658,247.

'Bucking' Auto Traps Indian Chief

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—(INS)—Even a "bucking" automobile couldn't toss Chief Lee White Horse, a full-blooded Cheyenne Indian, police reported today.

Police employed a lasso in an effort to urge the chief from his overturned car. But the chief refused to budge. He decided to come out, however, after police gave a couple of yanks on the dog catcher's noose around his neck.

Sees Industrial Peace Now Likely

Attorney For Newspaper Publishers Believes Court Decision Will Bring Peace

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Elisha Hanson, attorney for the American Newspaper Publishers Association, declared today that the injunction restraining the International Typographical Union from alleged violations of the Taft-Hartley Act opens the way for "industrial peace."

The injunction was granted by Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert at Indianapolis as a result of a complaint issued against the ITU by the National Labor Relations Board.

Hanson said: "Judge Swygert's order opens the way for stability of employer-employee relationships in the newspaper publishing field and in the whole graphic arts field as well."

Seek To Restore Relations
"It was unfortunate that the Typographical Union embarked upon a policy to defy and set aside the Labor-Management Relations Act."

"Now that it has been enjoined from pursuing that policy, I am certain that publishers will meet it more than half way in an effort to restore cordial bargaining relations within the law."

The ANPA counsel declared the publishers do not regard Judge Swygert's order as a "victory over an antagonist." He added: "Rather, it regards his order as paving the way for the industrial peace which is the object of the Labor-Management Relations Act."

New Castle Airport Among 37 In State That Is Above Average According To AOPA

HARRISBURG—The Harrisburg airport at New Cumberland has received the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association's certificate for "superior" service to transient non-commercial pilots and aircraft owners, and 36 other airports in Pennsylvania have received AOPA certificates for "above-average" service.

William L. Anderson, executive director of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission of the State Department of Commerce, announced the awards today. The certificates are for the six months that ended January 31.

The AOPA is a national organization with headquarters in Washington, D. C. The certificates are awarded as a result of individual reports from AOPA pilots. The purpose is to encourage airport operators in their efforts to provide adequate and satisfactory service.

The "above-average" certificates were awarded to the following airports: Allentown-Bethlehem-Winfield; Ambler; Beaver Meadows; Grimes; Bethel; Bloomsburg; Pittsburgh-Butler; Parker-Cramer; Clarion; Danville; Easton; Erie; Port Erie; Gordon; Hershey; Honesdale; Johnstown; Lancaster Municipal; Old Star; Langhorne; Cub Haven; Lock Haven.

Also, Matamoras; Morrisville; New Castle; Taylor; New Kingston; Patco Field; Norristown; Somerton; Philadelphia; Bettis; Pittsburgh; Stowe-Pottstown; Reading; Somerset; State College; Stroudsburg; Skyhaven; Tunkhannock; Wilkes-Barre; Williamsport; Thomasville; Valley Air Park, York.

Woodsman Held On Charge Of Murder

DEER PARK, Md., March 27.—(INS)—Golden Kirk, 23, an unemployed woodsman, was held Friday in jail in Oakland, Md., on a murder charge stemming from the fatal shooting of his step-father, Walter Messenger, 35, of Borman, W. Va., Thursday.

The shooting, in which Messenger was felled with three blasts from a 12-gauge shotgun, occurred during an argument.

Messenger had been visiting at the Kirk home and was drinking when Kirk ordered his stepfather to leave.

Authorities said that Messenger had a poker in his hand when Kirk ordered him out of the house. Kirk then was said to have fired at Messenger, killing him instantly.

"Today only tailors and actors place any value on the pocket for the pocket itself. The tailor, because it's his business; the actor, because he has to learn that a hand has no business in a pocket."

"A poor man was better off than a rich one."

The group was in charge of the pastor, Rev. Edward Truran, with several other groups traveling from this city by private car to hear the concert.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Treasury Secretary Snyder reported today that the government made a net profit of 23 million dollars by guaranteeing bank loans to finance war production.

Snyder said that the program, which guaranteed nearly 9,000 loans for a total of ten billion, 350 million dollars during the war and immediate post-war period, has practically terminated.

BRINGING UP FATHER

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 27.—(INS)—

Four guys are going goofy in their own private world these days and a couple hundred others are getting a good taste of frustration.

They have no pockets in their clothes.

For ten hours a day, six days a week, Errol Flynn, Romney Brent, Robert Douglas and Douglas Kennedy wear exact replicas of costumes the men in Spain sported during the 17th century.

Pockets Unknown

Pockets, standard equipment for the 20th century male, were unknown then. A poor man lugged his own money pouch, but custom decreed that a servant fulfill this function for the gent with dough.

Flynn, after his experience as the pocketless and pouchless hero of "Adventures of Don Juan," opined today:

"A poor man was better off than a rich one."

Douglas, who portrays a villainous prime minister of the Warner period piece, added:

"Today only tailors and actors place any value on the pocket for the pocket itself. The tailor, because it's his business; the actor, because he has to learn that a hand has no business in a pocket."

Douglas, who portrays a villainous prime minister of the Warner period piece, added:

"Today only tailors and actors place any value on the pocket for the pocket itself. The tailor, because it's his business; the actor, because he has to learn that a hand has no business in a pocket."

Brent, making his American film debut as King Philip III in the movie, said:

"All beginning actors should take a turn at playing in pictures like this. It would break the habit of sticking their mits self-consciously into their pockets."

Kennedy quipped:

"I'll never again complain about not having enough pockets—as long as I have pockets."

"No pockets," said Flynn. "No keys, no wallet, no cigarette lighter." The lighter seldom worked, anyway.

How To Reduce

The same picture has produced a better formula for losing weight than turning your cheek on candy, potatoes and bread.

Hollywood's top fencing master, Fred Cavens, said the ladies can convert their bulges into gentle curves a few weeks of fooling around with the foils.

Cavens has been rehearsing Flynn and a couple dozen other actors on sword play for the past few weeks.

All have dropped more than ten pounds—all but Don Turner, a former professional football player, who still tips the scales at 196. Turner eats five meals a day.

Douglas, who portrays a villainous prime minister of the Warner period piece, added:

"Today only tailors and actors place any value on the pocket for the pocket itself. The tailor, because it's his business; the actor, because he has to learn that a hand has no business in a pocket."

Elks-Pulaskis Settle Issue Tonight

Rival Cage Machines Clash At G. W. Court

With Series Standing At 1-1, Heated Battle For City
Title In Prospect

New Castle basketball fans by the hundreds will troop to the Washington High gym tonight for the third and final game of the city championship series between the Elks club and the K. Pulaskis. Each team has won a previous tussle, the Elks 50 to 31 and the Pulaskis 44 to 43. The evening's activities get under way at 7:15 o'clock with the Elks Reserves battling the New Castle Ex-High Stars. The gates will open at 8:30 o'clock tonight, with about 600 unreserved seats being placed on sale.

The question of the hour, which team is best, will be settled tonight one way or the other.

Chips Are Down

There are many pros and cons, with followers in both camps contending their team is best. The Elks have the most impressive win in the series 50 to 31, but this will mean little tonight when the 'chips are down'.

The only sad note of the game this evening is the fact that the Elks will have to sit in a straitjacket without the services of their star forward, Francis Pitzer, who has been sidelined for the past three weeks with an injured knee. There is no doubt that the Elks will miss the "big boy" tonight and it may hurt their offensive attack, but Bob Pitzer has been filling in capably for his injured brother and is expected to play a "whale of a game". Pitzer was injured when he collided with another player at Washington High floor in a game with the New Brighton Legion.

Look For Tough Battle

Captain Paul Morrison and his Elks will probably open with Don Edwards and Bob Pitzer at the forwards, Fred Wimer at center, and Pop Adams, Tom Carey, Vinny Kelly or Eddie Kosecia at the guards. Morrison would not venture a starting lineup to the news today, claiming he hadn't made up his mind.

"But this much is certain, we will be tough to beat tonight. I'm at that," Morrison stated. The Elks are well rested up, having been idle since last Monday night when they defeated Plaingrove in the Optimist tourney.

Pulaskis Confident

Captain Al Connet of the Pulaskis was confident that his team can overcome the Washington High for "inx". "We looked bad the last time we played the Elks at Washington, I'll admit, but it will be different tonight," the Oakland district member stated.

The Pulaskis will start either Joey Cooper, Chuck Rea or Carl Jamison at the forwards, Stan "Fish" Wank will look after the pivot job, and John Zukowsky, Pat Patterson or Flash Woods will handle the guard assignments, Connet indicated.

Expect Large Crowd

The Elks are ringing down the curtain on the 1948 season with the game tonight, with a record of 26 wins and nine defeats, a very enviable record against the strongest teams in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio. The Elks will keep going in the Optimist club tourney, being carried for Monday night.

All of the reserved seats for the games have been sold many weeks ago. A large crowd will see the games tonight. The unreserved seats will sell for 60 cents. The preliminary game promises to be a hard fought battle all the way.

Interest in the game has been heightened here the past two weeks. Which team will win?

Veck Unable To Appear Here

Possibility That Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler May Be Booster Banquet Speaker

Bill Veck, popular young president of the Cleveland Indians baseball club, will not be able to attend the New Castle Boosters banquet at the Cathedral on April 21st, but there is a strong possibility that A. B. "Happy" Chandler, commissioner of major league baseball will be here.

J. Preston Flaherty, president of the Johnson Bronze Company, contacted Veck by letter, with the Indians' chief stating that he was slated for a talk at the Foreman's Club in Cleveland the same night as the New Castle testimonial and expressed his regret at not being able to appear here.

Chandler Due South

A letter was also sent to Chandler by Mr. Flaherty, to his Cincinnati office, and while the commissioner is down in Florida at the moment, looking over the teams in spring training, his secretary seemed to feel that Chandler would accept the invitation to be here providing other commitments did not interfere.

Meeting Monday

The Boosters will have a meeting Monday night at the Castleton Hotel at 8 o'clock for the purpose of distributing tickets for the banquet and discussing further details. A full turnout of the Boosters members is requested for this meeting.

Meantime, interest in the big testimonial banquet for the New Castle team of the Mid-Atlantic league is swelling with leaps and bounds. Tickets sell for $2.00 and may be secured after Monday evening.

'Rocky' Loudly Denies Avoiding Zale In Rematch

NEW YORK, March 27.—(INS)—The burlesque is not wholly dead in Metropolitan New York and the promoters of the proposed third middleweight championship meeting between Rocky Graziano and Tony Zale proved it today.

They had champion Graziano issuing a ringing denial of veiled insinuations that he is trying to avoid ex-champion Zale for purposes of this third episode of the fight, tentatively scheduled for Jersey City in June. There is, according to Graziano, absolutely no truth in this published version.

Quite so; and nobody knows this better than the two fighters. Graziano, who definitely isn't going to "avoid" the only opponent the boxing commissions have left him. And Zale who, at this late date, has no intention of fighting anybody else.

Johnny Chuckran, Penn State football hero as a freshman in 1944, hopes to stage a comeback during the coming season.

Loss Of Marty Marion Would Dim Card Hopes

NEW YORK, March 27.—If the injured Marty Marion is lost for the 1948 baseball season or any appreciable part thereof, you can throw the St. Louis Cardinals out as hot contenders for the National league pennant.

It is doubtful that Marion ever was as good as his fondest admirers insisted. They always said he could go farther in either direction—right or left—and make plays that even old Honus Wagner would have stumbled over.

But he was just about the best shortstop of these times for 10 years or so and as such one of the key men in the Cards' triumphs during his era.

His knee buckled under him in an exhibition game yesterday—the same knee which he hurt last season and there now is some question as to how long he will be out. He never was a terrific hitter, but as the "Octopus" got his tentacles on everything hit toward his side of the infield and there is likely to be no replacement around for him. The ball players themselves named him the Octopus.

Lanky And Nervous

Marion is a tall, lanky, nervous sort of guy who picks up pebbles while waiting for his pitcher to throw to the hitter, and he stamps around here and there hitching up his pants and going through all manner of motions.

Then when the hitter hits the ball—if it is somewhere between second and third Marion generally has been in front of it.

Marion has been so good as a fielder that veteran baseball men—some of the smartest of them—have always insisted that he could do things Wagner couldn't do. Wagner was supposed to have been the best.

Of course, Wagner had an edge at bat. The so-called Flying Dutchman was among the greatest of hitters. Marion was ordinary at bat, although a fair sort of clutch hitter.

The two men are or were totally unlike. Wagner was a lumbering fellow with big bowed legs and deceptive speed. He has great hands like shovels.

Uncanny Fielder

Marion is a stringbean, a loose-jointed slight fellow with an uncanny knack of being where the ball would be hit, a good arm, and a sureness that was amazing.

Perhaps if he had been a really great hitter everybody would have agreed that he was better than even Wagner, supposedly the all-time peer of all shortstops by virtue of the things he did in the old days for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Marion can't go on much longer, bad knee or otherwise. He has just about run out his string, but Manager Eddie Dyer has been depending upon him to go hustling along another season or two and with him the Cardinals would be one of the tough clubs in their circuit.

Without him, no telling where they will finish. The team is on the old side, frayed around the seams and very close to being worn out by age.

EDENBURG TIGERS TO MEET MONDAY

An important meeting of the Edenburg Baseball Club has been called for Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the Town Hall. It was announced today by manager Ralph Ferrucci.

More Basketball Changes Adopted

NEW YORK, March 27.—(INS)—For the second time in as many days, four more rules changes were adopted today by the National Basketball committee. They are:

1. The period for which the time clock is to be stopped on dead balls is reduced from the last three minutes to the last two minutes of the game.

2. A foul committed on a throw-in from out-of-bounds will be considered personal, instead of technical as this year.

3. No team will be allowed to line up three or more players in adjacent positions on any restraining line when taking the ball on the outside.

4. Any player taken out during time period can return before play has been resumed. Previously, he had to wait until after play had been resumed.

Eagles Erased At Girard, Ohio

Leading throughout the game but edged in the final seconds, the New Castle Eagles bowed out of the Girard, O. tourney last night, 60-58. Their conquerors were the powerful Youngstown Merchants.

Kroll, former Youngstown college star, caged two quickies to put his team out front and then the Ohioans froze the leather until the clock ran out.

The halftime score was 26-23. Eagles, and at the end of the third stanza they led, 44-37. Gray topped the Eagles scorers with 18, followed by Hamilton, 12, and Don Reed, 10. Don Mayberry, Westminster performer, was brilliant for the losers. McCauley and Hughes were high for the Merchants.

The Eagles have now concluded their season with a record of 24 wins and 13 losses. A banquet will fetter the players soon.

Lineup:

Yst. W. G. P. P. Eagles. G. F. P. P. Coppernath, f. 2 0 4; Pair, f. 1 0 2; McCauley, f. 5 5 15; Hamilton, f. 2 6 12; Kroll, f. 5 2 12; Mayberry, f. 4 0 8; Hughes, c. 5 6 16; Humphrey, c. 1 0 2; Menaldi, g. 2 3 7; Reed, c. 3 4 10; Jones, g. 3 0 6; Gray, g. 2 0 18; Naples, g. 2 0 4; Kerr, g. 0 1 1.

PRO CAGE BATTLE PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Warriors meet the St. Louis Bombers in Philadelphia tonight for the third contest in their basketball association of America play-off series.

The Philadelphians dropped a 60-59 game last Tuesday in St. Louis, but the defending champions took the second game Thursday, 65-64.

Only twice in 25 years has Penn State's Leo Houck failed to produce at least one boxing champion in Eastern intercollegiate title competition. He's also the only coach still active who fielded a team for 25 successive tournaments.

Olympic Berths Await Winners Of Games At Madison Square Garden Today

By LES CONKLIN (International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 27.—(INS)—Places on the Olympic basketball team will be at stake in the play-offs which get under way at Madison Square Garden today.

After the final on March 31, a squad of 14 players will be chosen to represent the United States in the international classic in late July and August.

The Phillips Oilers, winners of the AAU crown for the past seven seasons, are the team favorites. They have such outstanding stars as Bob (7 ft.) Kurland, the biggest center in basketball; Gerald Tucker of Oklahoma U. and Lew Beck, of Oregon State.

Oilers Favored

The Oilers, who can score 100 points a game if they feel like it, are a topheavy choice tonight over Brooklyn's Prospect Park Y., the National YMCA champion.

The night feature is the clash between Louisville, the NAIB winner, and Kentucky, probably the best of the college quintets. Alex Groza, the All-American center of the Wildcats, is ready for action again, but Louisville has a sharp-shooter of its own in Jack Coleman, who has scored 412 points this season and averaged about 50 per cent on all his chances.

New York University is favored to beat Baylor in one afternoon game.

In the other matinee contest, the Oakland Bittners will oppose the Denver Nuggets. The Bittners boast Don Barksdale, an All-American center at UCLA last season. Hank Balke, set shot star of the Nuggets, is sidelined by the FLU.

The day's four winners will clash on Monday night in the semifinals.

PIAA TOURNEY IN HOMESTRETCH

The class "A" division of the annual PIAA basketball tournament bounces down the home stretch Tuesday when four teams clash for Eastern and Western championships.

Norristown faces York for the eastern title at the University of Pennsylvania Palestra, to reach the finals Norristown defeated Bethlehem and York topped Plymouth.

Westinghouse engages high-touted Ford City in Pittsburgh for the western championship.

Bridgeport faces Swoyerville in the Class "B" Eastern final Monday night at the Radnor high gymnasium in a battle of tall men.

Bob Rutherford, Jr., son of the Penn State coach, is his father's chief aide on the golf course.

Briefs From Major Camps

(By International News Service)

The perennial bugaboo of injuries again is cropping up to give baseball managers gray hairs. Two prominent flag contenders lost the services of a regular player yesterday for some time to come.

Marty Marion, the St. Louis Cardinal "Mister Shortstop," suffered a recurrence of an old knee injury while chasing a grounder.

Yogi Berra, colorful catcher of the New York Yankees, tried to play for the first time since he hurt his leg on March 15, and immediately aggravated the injury.

Thus victory proved costly for both teams. The Yanks clinched their exhibition series with the Red Sox by beating Boston 7-2, and the Cards shaded the Phillies 2-1 on homers by Country Slaughter and Dick Sisler.

Cincinnati had to go 13 innings to nose out Detroit, 6 to 5. Cleveland took a 10 to 9 slugfest from the St. Louis Browns.

Washington swamped Birmingham of the Southern Association, 10 to 3. The Senators announced they had obtained Jake Early, their old catcher, back from the Browns for the waiver price.

NATIONAL HOCKEY PLAY-OFFS HITTER SEASONAL RIVALRY

Form displayed during the regular season, National Hockey League continued to hold today in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Toronto, the league champion, has beaten the Boston Bruins in the only contest of their semi-final series played to date. Tonight, still on Toronto ice, the Bruins will attempt to square the series.

The New York Rangers will have to wait until tomorrow night when they get back on their own rink to take another crack at the Detroit Red Wings, who have beaten them two straight in their semi-final series.

The Wings, who finished a close second to Toronto in the regular season, had no difficulty at all at Detroit last night in again proving to be the Nemesis of the Blue Shirts. Detroit won 5 to 2, there being scant doubt as to the outcome after the Wings scored twice in the second period.

BEAUTY SHOULD BE MORE THAN JUST SKIN DEEP

It's a nice thing to have your car cleaned and polished. Looks good on the highway. But that kind of beauty should be more than skin deep.

Beauty in an automobile should be under the hood also. Your car body may shine like a mirror but if the motor isn't in shape you're in trouble.

Our mechanics are not beauticians but they sure can pretty up your motor for you. Bring your car over and prove it.

Tempys Blast Franklin, Now In Semi-Finals

The Tempy Cubs entered the semi-finals of the Sharon Amateur Basketball tourney last evening at the Sharon H. floor by whipping the Franklin, Pa. 49ers 35-20. Don Black, Chuck Rea and Harp Janaccone accounted for all the Tempys points with 16, 10, and 9 respectively. For the losers, Hunter was high with 11.

The Tempy Cubs will return to the Sharon H. floor this evening at 6:30 to take on the East Akron, O. Castings in the semi-final game. The Castings were the tourney champs last year and are slated as heavy favorites to cop again this year, but the Tempys have other ideas.

Provided the Tempys win this game they will meet the winners of the Shenango Valley Ex-Highs—Shontz and Meyer semi-final game. A loss will put them in the consolation game.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

SPORTSMEN hereabouts would like to know what progress is being made by the state fish commission toward the rearing of muskellunge in Pennsylvania? Last year the commission sent a representative from the Union City hatchery to a Bemus Point, N. Y., hatchery, where the rearing of "muskies" has proved successful, to learn the operation. So far as known, the result of that study is unknown here. The wall-eye situation at Pymatuning dam and Conneaut lake is another project of which sportsmen would like to know something. Last year both bodies were supposed to be stocked with 1,000 each. Due to weather conditions, and probably other causes, the dam and lake each got only 500, according to reports. . . . This for the info of Clinton White, fish protector of Lawrence and Mercer counties: Reports reaching Here & There state that trout stocked recently in the Big Run are being fished out. . . . When Jack Biddle stated "I know I can 'tag' Russell (Baxter), and he knows it, too," he built a "fire" beneath Baxter. The statement made Baxter torrid hot around the collar and after signing articles to fight Biddle a second time, he asked: "Who does Biddle think he is? I beat him the first time and I'll give him a worse licking the next time we meet. He might as well leave his left hook at home. He'll never get a chance to land it." They fight in The Arena, April 14. . . . Johnny Leociano, manager of Frankie Morgan, New Castle welterweight, who fights Billy Miller, of Pittsburgh, anticipates a $2,500 gate, at Ellwood City, Tuesday night. Johnny's brother, Ray, is acting as promoter for the Lions club. With Russell Baxter opposed to Johnny Watson, and Bill Bradley opposed to Johnny Izzo, plus several other bouts, Ray has what looks like an entertaining card. . . . Sportsmen are skeet and trapshooting at the Harbor today. . . . Efforts are being made to have the immigration authorities permit Max Schmeling to return to the United States to resume his boxing career. He is 43 years old, and many states prohibit men over 40, appearing in bouts. It is a pity that so many people have forgotten there was a World War II and that Schmeling was a Nazi paratrooper. . . . Joe Evans, former featherweight boxer of Ellwood City, and a good one, too, was a visitor recently to this city. He has taken on weight since he hung up the gloves. . . . How many devotees of checkers would like to see Champion Willie Frank of New York play in this city? Some checker enthusiasts would like to see him exhibit his ability here. Readers may reply to Here & There.

Oakland Blanks Pittsburgh, 3-0

Buccos Held To Three Hits By Coast Leaguers; Buy Don Gutteridge

OAKLAND, Cal., March 27. — (INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today had their second shutout of the training season after being blanked by Oakland 3-0.

A double off the left field fence by former Pirate Maurice Van Robays, with Walt Pockey and Ray Hamrick aboard, accounted for most of the damage by the Bucs.

Elmer Singleton was on the mound for the Pirates at the time. Then in the eighth, with Nick Strincevich pitching for the Pirates, Ed Samoff belted one into right field bleachers for a home run.

The Pirates managed to get three hits, one a double by Monty Bass.

The Pirates now have a record of nine wins and six defeats. Their only other shutout was delivered by the St. Louis Browns, 1-0.

Meanwhile General Manager Roy Hamey announced that the Pirates had purchased infielder

Don Gutteridge from the Boston Red Sox in a waiver claim deal. A right hander, Gutteridge has played with the St. Louis Cardinals, St. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox.

He will join the team either at Phoenix or Tucson next week, Hamey said.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 27. — (INS)—A select and championship field of athletes goes into action tonight in the sixth annual Purdue relay to compete for 15 titles on an individual basis without regard to team scoring.

About 300 contestants from 26 colleges, all selected from past performances, will bring the indoor collegiate track season to a close. Ohio State and Michigan are favored to win the university one-mile relay.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 27. — (INS)—Chick Harbert of Detroit paced the field one stroke today into the third round of match play of the $10,000 Charlotte golf tournament.

Harbert shot a six-under-par 66 yesterday for the second straight day for a 132 score.

Feed

Have You Lost Your Extras?
If you have, then you probably are not feeding "Our Quality" starting mash. To our knowledge, not one feeder has yet lost his extras. Reports pouring in—chicks 8 to 10 weeks weighing 3-lbs. and over. Yet "Our Quality" starting mash is priced at only $3.45 per cwt. Best of all chicks fed "Our Quality" treated starting mash are protected for life against those heavy losses due to coccidiosis. No other feed can make this claim. Don't pay more, buy the best for less. Sold exclusively byJOHN S. BROWN'S SON
